

Table of Contents

Volume 3

PART I. SUBSTANTIVE TORT LAW

CHAPTER 1. NEGLIGENCE

- § 1.3 Scope of duty in general
- § 1.5 Statutes as a source of legal duty
- § 1.6 Contract as a source of legal duty
- § 1.8 Duties of common carriers
- § 1.9 Special relationships: persons in custody
- § 1.10 Duty to control third parties—Generally
- § 1.11 Duty to control third parties—Master and servant
- § 1.12 Duty to control third parties—Parent and child
- § 1.14 Duty to prevent accidents arising from dangerous conditions
- § 1.16 Assumption of a duty
- § 1.18 Gross negligence
- § 1.20 Custom and practice defining the standard of care
- § 1.22 Statutes and regulations as defining the standard of care—
Negligence per se
- § 1.25 Standard of care for persons with special knowledge
- § 1.26 Standard of care in an emergency
- § 1.27 Liability for abnormally dangerous activities
- § 1.28 Duty to preserve evidence [New]
- § 1.29 Internet-Related Claims [New]

CHAPTER 2. CAUSATION

- § 2.2 Cause-in-fact: causation as a logical principle
- § 2.2.50 Establishing causation through proof of increased risk of harm [New]
- § 2.3 Concurrent causation
- § 2.5 Legal cause: causation as a limiting principle
- § 2.6 Foreseeability of harm or the manner of its occurrence
- § 2.8 Intervening and superseding cause
- § 2.9 Intentional or criminal conduct as a superseding cause

CHAPTER 3. VICARIOUS LIABILITY MASTER-SERVANT RELATIONSHIP

- § 3.4 Master-servant relationship—Operation of vehicles [Retitled]
- § 3.5 Master-servant relationship—Franchise arrangements
- § 3.7 Master's liability for intentional or criminal acts

- § 3.12 Vicarious liability as distinguished from direct liability for negligent hiring
- § 3.13 Master-servant relationships—Issues of proof

CHAPTER 4. LIABILITY FOR INDEPENDENT CONTRACTORS

- § 4.2 Independent contractors as distinguished from servants
- § 4.7 Negligent exercise of control retained by the employer of an independent contractor
- § 4.10 Vicarious liability for work dangerous in the absence of special precautions—The peculiar risk of harm doctrine

CHAPTER 5. LIABILITY OF POSSESSORS OF LAND

- § 5.2 The plaintiff's status—Distinctions in classification
- § 5.3 Duty as to trespassers
- § 5.4 Minors as trespassers—The attractive nuisance doctrine
- § 5.5 Duty to constant trespassers within a limited area
- § 5.8 Duty as to invitees
- § 5.9 Duty as to licensees
- § 5.10 Negligent failure to warn independent contractors of dangerous conditions of land
- § 5.11 Liability for dangerous conditions on adjacent land
- § 5.12 Landowner's liability for dangerous conditions involving adjacent highways
- § 5.13 Liability for dangerous conditions on adjacent sidewalks
- § 5.14 Falls on ice and snow—The hills and ridges doctrine
- § 5.15 The Recreation Act—Limited immunity for permitting gratuitous use of land for recreation
- § 5.16 Liability for dangerous conditions of land presenting a risk outside the land
- § 5.17 Liability for the wrongful acts of third-parties
- § 5.18 Liability of landlords out of possession
- § 5.19 Liability of a landlord for failure to prevent criminal conduct
- § 5.20 Liability of a party out of possession [New]

CHAPTER 6. LEGAL MALPRACTICE

- § 6.1.50 Expert certification in legal malpractice cases [New]
- § 6.2 Criminal representation—Elements of a cause of action
- § 6.9 Legal malpractice arising out of civil representation—Elements of a cause of action
- § 6.10 Requirement of attorney-client relationship or other circumstances establishing privity with the plaintiff
- § 6.12 Standard of care for civil representation generally
- § 6.15 Duty to follow client's instructions
- § 6.15.50 Duty to keep client informed [New]
- § 6.16 Attorneys as fiduciaries
- § 6.18 Duty to convey settlement offers to client
- § 6.19 Liability arising out of settlement accepted by client
- § 6.24 Contributory negligence by the client as a defense

TABLE OF CONTENTS

- § 6.25 Causation in legal malpractice cases: the case within a case
- § 6.26 Necessity for expert testimony
- § 6.27 Damages in cases arising out of civil representation
- § 6.29 Statute of limitations for claims arising out of civil representation

CHAPTER 7. MEDICAL MALPRACTICE

- § 7.1 Standard of care for medical professionals generally
- § 7.1.50 Evidentiary issues in proving a breach of the standard of care [New]
- § 7.2 The locality rule
- § 7.3 Standard of care for specialists
- § 7.4 Liability following referral to specialists
- § 7.6 Liability of physicians to non-patients
- § 7.7 Duty of physicians not employed by the plaintiff
- § 7.9 Physicians' liability generally for other health care personnel
- § 7.16 Direct causation in medical negligence cases
- § 7.17 Increased risk of harm in medical negligence cases
- § 7.18 Proof of causation in medical negligence cases—Degree of expert certainty required
- § 7.20 The error of judgment rule
- § 7.22 The two schools of thought doctrine
- § 7.23 Res ipsa loquitur
- § 7.24 Comparative negligence by the patient as a defense
- § 7.25 Wrongful life/wrongful birth/wrongful conception
- § 7.27 Emergency care—Liability for emergency medical services
- § 7.29 Respondeat superior liability of hospitals [New]
- § 7.30 Ostensible agency
- § 7.31 Corporate liability
- § 7.32 Hospitals and physicians as suppliers of products
- § 7.34 Liability of health maintenance organizations
- § 7.34.30 Special rules concerning venue [New]
- § 7.34.70 Expert certification in professional liability actions [New]
- § 7.36 Health Care Services Malpractice Act—Insurance provisions
- § 7.38 Health Care Services Malpractice Act—Substantive legal principles
 - § 7.38.10 Substantive principles governing punitive damages [New]
 - § 7.38.20 Special procedures governing malpractice cases [New]
 - § 7.38.30 Periodic payment of damages [New]
 - § 7.38.40 Partial repeal of collateral source rule [New]
 - § 7.38.50 Reduction of damages for future loss of earning capacity to present worth [New]
 - § 7.38.60 Special standard for remittitur [New]
 - § 7.38.70 Statute of repose and statute of limitations for medical negligence cases [New]
 - § 7.38.80 Expert witness qualifications [New]
 - § 7.38.90 Preservation and accuracy of medical records [New]
- § 7.39 National practitioner data bank
- § 7.40 The Peer Review Protection Act
- § 7.42 Duty to third-parties harmed by psychiatric patients
- § 7.43 Mental Health and Mental Retardation Act of 1966
- § 7.44 Mental Health Procedures Act of 1976—In general

- § 7.45 Litigants affected by the Mental Health Procedures Act
[Retitled]
- § 7.46 Scope of immunity under the Mental Health Procedures Act
[Retitled]
- § 7.47 Pleading requirements under the Mental Health Procedures Act
[Retitled]

CHAPTER 8. INFORMED CONSENT

- § 8.2 Evolution of the prudent patient standard in Pennsylvania
- § 8.3 A summary of Pennsylvania’s current standard as to informed consent
- § 8.3.50 The plaintiff’s burden of proof as to causation [New]
- § 8.4 Informed consent under the Malpractice Act
- § 8.6 Scope of informed consent—The distinction between surgical and non-surgical treatment
- § 8.7 Limitations upon informed consent outside surgery—Drugs/radiation/blood products
- § 8.8 Non-applicability to choice of surgical technique
- § 8.9 Non-applicability to physician’s credentials
- § 8.10.50 Relevance of regulatory standards to informed consent claims [Retitled]
- § 8.11 Applicability of doctrine to hospitals
- § 8.12 Issues of proof surrounding informed consent

CHAPTER 9. PRODUCT LIABILITY

- § 9.1 Evolution of strict liability
- § 9.4 Basic elements of a Prima Facie case
- § 9.4.50 Tincher—The new standard in product liability [New]
- § 9.4.70 Tincher—Consumer expectation test [New]
- § 9.6.50 On-line retailers as “Sellers” [New]
- § 9.16 Successor corporations—The product line exception
- § 9.19 Eligible plaintiffs in strict liability actions
- § 9.22 Liability for used products
- § 9.25 Incomplete products
- § 9.26 Section 402A and the “unreasonably dangerous” requirement
- § 9.27 Role of the court in applying the unreasonably dangerous requirement
- § 9.28 Product defect and industry state-of-the-art
- § 9.29 The Azzarello standard and consumer expectations
- § 9.30 The Azzarello standard and risk versus utility theories of defect
- § 9.31 Liability for manufacturing defects due to negligence
- § 9.33 Circumstantial proof of manufacturing defects—The malfunction theory
- § 9.34 Liability for negligent design
- § 9.35 Strict liability for design defects
- § 9.36 Failure to incorporate safety devices as a design defect
- § 9.37 Designs which enhance injury/crashworthiness
- § 9.38 Requirement of a feasible alternative design
- § 9.39 Evidence of standards, custom, and practice in design cases
- § 9.40 Evidence of post-accident remedial measures or changes in design

TABLE OF CONTENTS

- § 9.41 Evidence of prior accidents in design defect cases
- § 9.43 Strict liability for failure to warn of product hazards
- § 9.44 Post-sale duty to warn or retrofit
- § 9.45 Causation in warning cases
- § 9.46 Liability of component part suppliers
- § 9.47 Liability for pharmaceutical products
- § 9.48 Non-liability for blood transfusion and transplants
- § 9.53 Liability for breach of implied warranties [New]
- § 9.54 Damages and defenses in breach of warranty actions
- § 9.56 Statute of limitation for warranty claims
- § 9.59 Product identification—Shifting the burden to alternative defendants
- § 9.60 Product identification—Market share liability
- § 9.62 Defenses—Non-applicability of comparative negligence
- § 9.63 Defenses—Assumption of the risk
- § 9.64 Defenses—Plaintiff's conduct as the legal cause of injury
- § 9.65 Defenses—Product misuse
- § 9.66 Defenses—The intended use doctrine
- § 9.67 Defenses—Alteration of the product
- § 9.68 Defenses—Unlawful conduct by third parties
- § 9.70 Defenses—Sophisticated users
- § 9.71 Defenses—Federal preemption
- § 9.72 Defenses—Absence of injury
- § 9.73 Defenses—Statute of repose
- § 9.74 Defenses—Products supplied under government contracts
- § 9.75 Defenses—Compliance with industry or government standards
- § 9.76 Defenses—Employer immunity—The dual capacity doctrine
- § 9.77 Defenses—Spoliation of evidence [New]

CHAPTER 10. SOVEREIGN AND GOVERNMENTAL IMMUNITY

- § 10.3 General structure of the immunity acts—A comparative overview
- § 10.5 Procedural requirements—Notice of claim
- § 10.6 Procedural requirements—Venue
- § 10.7 Procedural requirements—Identification of defendants
- § 10.8 Liability of individual officials and employees
- § 10.9 Categorization of governmental defendants generally
- § 10.9.50 Community development corporations [New]
- § 10.10 Commonwealth agencies—Transportation authorities
- § 10.13 Commonwealth agencies—Housing authorities
- § 10.18 Local agencies—Volunteer fire companies
- § 10.19 Local agencies—Volunteer ambulance services
- § 10.20 Local agencies—Parking authorities
- § 10.21 Local agencies—Community colleges
- § 10.22 Local agencies—Municipal utilities
- § 10.23 Private parties acting under government contract
- § 10.24 Bases for liability under the Immunity Acts—General overview
- § 10.25 Requirement for a common law or statutory cause of action

- § 10.26 Limitation of liability to negligence claims
- § 10.27 Vehicle exception—State and local
- § 10.28 Liability arising out of the operation of emergency vehicles
- § 10.29 Medical-professional liability—State and local
- § 10.30 Personal property exception—State and local
- § 10.32 Defects in property as contrasted with negligence in use of property
- § 10.33 The Mascaro doctrine
- § 10.34 Bases for imposing liability under the real property exception
- § 10.35 Real property exception—Definition of real property
- § 10.36 Real property exception—Definition of “possession”
- § 10.38 Liability for street conditions under the Subdivision Act
- § 10.39 Liability for traffic controls under the Subdivision Act
- § 10.40 Liability for lighting and trees under the Subdivision Act
- § 10.41 Liability for dangerous conditions of sidewalks under the Subdivision Act
- § 10.42 Liability of the Commonwealth for highways and highway conditions
- § 10.43 Municipal liability for conditions on state highways
- § 10.44 Liability of Commonwealth agencies for dangerous conditions of real property other than highways
- § 10.45 Liability for utility facilities under the Subdivision Act
- § 10.47 Liability for animals—State and local
- § 10:47.50 Liability for sexual abuse [New]
- § 10.48 Special considerations in police cases
- § 10.49 Civil rights cases
- § 10.50 Defenses—Pleading/waiver
- § 10.55 Defenses—The Recreation Act
- § 10.59 Damages under the Sovereign Immunity Act—Death cases
- § 10.62 Damages under the Political Subdivision Act—Limitation on damages
- § 10.63 Damages under the Political Subdivision Act—The limitation on recovery for pain and suffering
- § 10.65 Liability for delay damages

CHAPTER 11. RECOVERY FOR EMOTIONAL DISTRESS

- § 11.4 Elements of recovery—Negligent infliction of emotional distress
- § 11.5 Negligent infliction of emotional distress not arising from traumatic injury
- § 11.6 Recovery for fear of future injury [Retitled]
- § 11.7 Intentional infliction of emotional distress

Volume 4

CHAPTER 12. DAMAGES

- § 12.2 Recovery for past medical expenses
- § 12.3 Recovery of future medical expenses
- § 12.7 Future loss of earnings and earning capacity

TABLE OF CONTENTS

- § 12.9 Abolition of present value discounting of future damages
- § 12.14 General damages: recovery for physical pain and mental anguish
- § 12.15 Proof of damages for pain and suffering
- § 12.17 Recovery of pain and suffering by a neurologically impaired or unconscious plaintiff
- § 12.19 Recovery for loss of life's pleasures
- § 12.20 Impact of plaintiff's life expectancy
- § 12.21 Punitive damages
- § 12.22 Specific cases justifying an award of punitive damages
- § 12.23 Vicarious liability for punitive damages
- § 12.24 Issues of procedure and proof in punitive damage claims
- § 12.25 The collateral source rule
- § 12.31 Non-spousal claims for loss of consortium
- § 12.32 Loss of consortium: issues of procedure and proof
- § 12.33 Claims for medical monitoring
- § 12.33.50 Damages for fear of future injury [New]
- § 12.34 Inadequate damage awards
- § 12.35 Excessive damage awards

CHAPTER 13. DAMAGES FOR DELAY—PRE-JUDGMENT INTEREST

- § 13.1 Amended Rule 238—Mechanics of the rule
- § 13.5 Scope of Rule 238
- § 13.7 Bases for avoiding delay damages
- § 13.8 Defendant's financial status or tender of insurance coverage as a basis for avoiding delay damages
- § 13.9 Delay damages during the pendency of an appeal
- § 13.10 Application of Rule 238 in multi-party cases

CHAPTER 14. DEATH CASES

- § 14.3 Procedural requirements governing wrongful death actions
- § 14.4 Eligible plaintiffs in wrongful death actions
- § 14.7 Wrongful death actions: damages recoverable
- § 14.9 Interplay between wrongful death and survival action
- § 14.10 Survival actions: damages recoverable generally
- § 14.14 Survival actions: recovery for pain and suffering
- § 14.16 Defenses in wrongful death and survival actions
- § 14.17 Court approval of settlements in wrongful death and survival actions
- § 14.18 Distribution in wrongful death and survival actions

CHAPTER 15. COMPARATIVE NEGLIGENCE

- § 15.2 The Comparative Negligence Act
- § 15.3 Mechanics of the Comparative Negligence Act
- § 15.4 Duty of care owed by the plaintiff
- § 15.6 Abolition of the presumption of due care
- § 15.7 Comparative negligence as a matter of law
- § 15.8 Cases in which comparative negligence is inapplicable
- § 15.9 Comparative negligence of rescuers

- § 15.11 Failure to wear a seat belt as contributory negligence
- § 15.12 Comparative negligence of children
- § 15.14 Imputed comparative negligence

CHAPTER 16. ASSUMPTION OF THE RISK

- § 16.2 Continued viability of assumption of the risk after adoption of comparative negligence
- § 16.3 Assumption of the risk as the absence of a legal duty
- § 16.4 Assumption of the risk as the conscious choice to encounter danger
- § 16.5 The subjective nature of assumption of the risk
- § 16.6 Assumption of the risk as distinguished from comparative negligence
- § 16.7 Activities associated with inherent risks
- § 16.8 Express assumption of the risk

CHAPTER 17. LIMITATIONS OF TIME

- § 17.1 Statutory provisions
- § 17.2 Issues of pleading & proof
- § 17.3 Extending the statute of limitations—The discovery rule
[New]
- § 17.5 Plaintiff's burden of diligence under the discovery rule
- § 17.6 Fraudulent concealment and misrepresentation
- § 17.7 Minors' cases
- § 17.8 Psychological impairment
- § 17.8.50 Physical impairment [New]
- § 17.9 Toxic substances and insidious diseases—The second injury rule
- § 17.10 Death cases
- § 17.11 Statute of repose
- § 17.11.50 Statute of repose for claims against health care providers
[New]

CHAPTER 18. JOINT TORTFEASOR LIABILITY, INDEMNITY AND CONTRIBUTION

- § 18.1.50 Modification of joint liability [New]
- § 18.2 Effect of a partial settlement upon the plaintiff's rights
- § 18.3 General releases
- § 18.4 Pro tanto releases
- § 18.5 Pro rata releases
- § 18.6 Mary Carter releases
- § 18.6.50 High-low settlement agreements [New]
- § 18.7 Griffin releases
- § 18.8 Determining the significance of a settling defendant's percentage share
- § 18.9 Effect of dismissal/satisfaction
- § 18.11 Joint liability as distinguished from apportionment of damages
- § 18.12 Apportionment of damages

TABLE OF CONTENTS

§ 18.15 Joint liability of principal and agent
§ 18.16 Joint liability in cases involving primary/secondary liability
§ 18.17 Joint liability in product liability cases
§ 18.18 Practical consideration in entering into releases
§ 18.20 Mechanics of contribution claims
§ 18.21 Indemnification

Table of Laws and Rules

Table of Cases

Index