Highlights

Every point discussed in Sutherland includes extensive citations from both federal and state jurisdictions, which provide strong support for the proposition and often also for contrary positions.

In the 2025-2026 Cumulative Supplement new discussion and hundreds of new case citations from federal and state jurisdictions across the country have been added in all nine volumes of the set.

Cited in over 120 federal and state courts during the past 12 months—including 13 federal circuit court decisions, and 48 decisions of state high courts—this treatise continues to prove that it is the essential source for practitioners in understanding the legislative process and the principles for interpreting statutes.

Sutherland is also available on Westlaw and as a Proview eBook.
