

Preface to 2023-2024 Supplement

The 2023-2024 Supplementary Pamphlet to Baldwin's Ohio Practice, Local Government Law-Township builds upon the framework of previous editions of Baldwin's Ohio Township Law and continues to guide users to current primary materials in township law. Accordingly, we reviewed all applicable federal statutes; Ohio bills enacted in 2022-2023 (up to the legislature's June summer recess); Opinions of the Attorney General of Ohio; and cases decided in that time frame.

Highlights of this year's supplement include significantly increasing the types of economic development tools available to townships, increasing the competitive-bid requirement, and numerous cases touching on Ohio's Sunshine Laws

2023-2024 supplement contributors Brodi J. Conover and Benjamin J. Yoder are indebted to Rebecca C. Princehorn, of Bricker Graydon LLP, for her steadfast commitment to and authorship of Baldwin's Ohio Practice, Local Government Law-Township treatise for many years. Ms. Princehorn has undoubtedly provided anyone associated with Ohio townships with significant knowledge over the years, but she has been particularly helpful to each of us as we have practiced alongside her. In addition, Rebecca C. Princehorn, Brodi J. Conover and Benjamin J. Yoder are grateful for the invaluable assistance that Carly M. Sherman, Associate, of Bricker Graydon LLP, provided in editing the 2023-2024 Supplement Pamphlet. Finally, thank you to Heidi Fought and Marisa Myers of the Ohio Township Association for their insight and suggestions.
