

DOBBS' LAW OF TORTS 2nd

Your 2022 Supplements for The Law of Torts 2nd by Dan B. Dobbs, Paul T. Hayden and Ellen M. Bublick keep your 2nd edition up to date with this ever-changing practice area providing new and updated material for many sections, including:

§§ 32, 35, 41, 47, 52, 75--79, 80, covering how torts are defined, common law methods of analysis and the doctrine of precedent, damages for trespassory torts, property subject to conversion, force/confinement in the discipline of children, and other interference with persons and property as common law torts and civil rights torts, civil action for spoliation of evidence.

§§ 173, 176, 189 199, 202, 207, 208, 209, 211, 212, discussing standards for aggravated fault, particularizing circumstances, negligence per se, res ipsa loquitur, superior knowledge and access to or use of specific evidence, problems proving causation, intervening acts or superseding causes.

§§ 228, 232, 233, 234, 237, analyzing developments in assumption of risk.

§§ 241, 243, 245, 246, 247, covering statutes of limitation, foundational principles, starting the clock under accrual rule, discovery rule, statute of repose, and child abuse cases

§§ 271, 272, 273, 274, 275, 276, 279, involving premises liability and other responsibilities of landowners and occupiers

§§ 292, 302, 303, 305, 312, 316, 317, 319, 331, addressing health care malpractice, reasonable care standard, traditional standard of care, requirement of expert testimony, res ipsa loquitur, information disclosed for informed consent, patient's contributory negligence or comparative fault, clergy and church liability in tort generally.

§§ 334, 335, 336, 338, 342, 342, 343, 344, 346, 347, 348, 350, 351, 352, 354, analyzing the liability of state and federal government and public entities, officers and employees, under the FTCA, and state analogs, immunities, liabilities, and civil rights claims.

§§ 366, 369, involving prenatal and birth-related injuries.

§§ 372, 376, involving wrongful death and survival actions.

§§ 386, 387, 391, involving recovery for emotional distress, common characteristics of extreme and outrageous conduct, discrimination and words causing emotional harm, and emotional harm arising from risks or harms to others

§§ 409, 410, 412, 413, 416, 417, 418, 421, 422, 423, 424, concerning the duties to protect a plaintiff from herself or third persons; the types of relationships recognized, employer's duty to protect employees and independent contractors, negligent entrustment, enhancing dangers.

§§ 425, 428, 429, 431, 435, addressing vicarious liability; scope of employment and limits on scope of employment, independent contractors, borrowed servants, and imputed contributory negligence.

§§ 449, 451, 459, 463, 465, 466, 467, 468, 477, 478, discussing products liability; requirement that defect case harm, proving alternative design, excluding expert testimony, requirement of warnings, adequacy of warnings, defenses, and parties covered.

§§ 480, 483, 485, 486, 491, 495, treating damages; basic compensatory damages, adjustments to basic, tort reform statutes.

§§ 503, 504, 505, 506, discussing the workers compensation system.

§§ 521, 522, 525, 526, 527, 534, 539, 540, 541, 548, 552, 553, 559, 564, 572, 573, 574, addressing various defamation topics; requirement of publication, effects of repeater's publication, protections for transmitters and internet providers, defenses, common law privileges, opinion statements, name calling, remedies.

§§ 631, 641, 642, 667, 682, 697, 701, 703, covering various economic torts/issues, intentional interference with contract, with economic opportunities, remedies, fraud or misrepresentation, contractual economic loss rule, special relationships, wrongful discharge

§§ 718, 720, 721, 722, 725, 727, 728, 732, analyzing legal malpractice issues, breach of fiduciary duty, liability to non-clients, criminal malpractice.