

Table of Contents

Volume 1

Chapter 1 The Exclusionary Rule and Other Remedies

- § 1.1 Origins and purposes of the exclusionary rule
  - § 1.1(a) Origins of the Fourth Amendment
- § 1.2 The exclusionary rule under attack
  - § 1.2(d) Limiting the exclusionary rule to “substantial” or other than “good faith” violations
- § 1.3 The Leon “good faith” exception
  - § 1.3(e) “Good faith”: generally
  - § 1.3(f) Scope of Leon exception in warrant cases
  - § 1.3(g) “Good faith” in without warrant cases
  - § 1.3(h) “Good faith” and unconstitutional legislation or overruled precedents
- § 1.4 The Scott “bad faith” doctrine
  - § 1.4(e) “Pretext” arrests and searches before Whren
  - § 1.4(f) More on “pretext”: the effects of Whren
- § 1.5 Federal vs. state standards; constitutional vs. other violations
  - § 1.5(b) Violation of state constitution, state or federal statute, court rule, or administrative regulation
  - § 1.5(c) The remaining “silver platter”
- § 1.6 The exclusionary rule in criminal proceedings
  - § 1.6(b) Grand jury subpoena duces tecum
  - § 1.6(g) Revocation of conditional release
- § 1.7 The exclusionary rule in quasi-criminal, civil and administrative proceedings
  - § 1.7(f) Administrative hearings
- § 1.8 The exclusionary rule and “private” or nonpolice searches
  - § 1.8(a) The Burdeau rule
  - § 1.8(b) Government participation or specific instigation
  - § 1.8(d) The “public function” approach
  - § 1.8(h) Foreign police and the international “silver platter”
- § 1.10 Civil suit; criminal prosecution; disciplinary proceedings
  - § 1.10(a) The “constitutional tort” by state officers
  - § 1.10(b) The “constitutional tort” by federal officers

Chapter 2 Protected Areas and Interests

- § 2.1 The Katz expectation of privacy test
  - § 2.1(a) Definition of “searches” and “seizures”
  - § 2.1(c) An “actual (subjective) expectation of privacy”

- § 2.1(d) An expectation “that society is prepared to recognize as ‘reasonable’ ”
- § 2.2 Plain view, smell, hearing, and touch; aiding the senses
  - § 2.2(a) Plain view, smell, hearing or touch
  - § 2.2(f) Use of electronic surveillance to discover and decrypt communications
  - § 2.2(g) Use of canine to detect drugs, etc.
  - § 2.2(h) Use of “electronic canine” to detect explosives, alcohol, etc.
- § 2.3 Residential premises
  - § 2.3(b) Entry of residence
  - § 2.3(c) Looking in or listening at the residence
  - § 2.3(d) Entry of related structures
  - § 2.3(e) Looking into or listening at related structures
  - § 2.3(f) Entry of adjoining lands
  - § 2.3(g) Looking into or listening at adjoining lands
- § 2.4 Other premises and places
  - § 2.4(a) “Open fields”
  - § 2.4(b) Business and commercial premises
- § 2.5 Vehicles
  - § 2.5(a) Abandoned vehicles
  - § 2.5(b) Examination of exterior of vehicle
  - § 2.5(c) Determination of contents of vehicle without physical intrusion
- § 2.6 Persons and effects
  - § 2.6(a) Personal characteristics
  - § 2.6(b) Abandoned effects generally
  - § 2.6(c) Garbage in particular
  - § 2.6(d) Effects that are “mere evidence”
  - § 2.6(e) Private papers
  - § 2.6(f) Computer and cell phone data [Retitled]
- § 2.7 Surveillance of relationships and movements
  - § 2.7(b) Pen registers
  - § 2.7(c) Examination of financial and other business records
  - § 2.7(d) Examination of medical records
  - § 2.7(e) Data aggregation and mining
  - § 2.7(f) Electronic tracking devices
  - § 2.7(g) Ongoing surveillance of public movements and relationships

Volume 2

Chapter 3 Probable Cause

- § 3.1 General considerations
  - § 3.1(b) Probable cause as to what?—Arrest vs. search
  - § 3.1(c) Significance of the fact a warrant was obtained
  - § 3.1(d) When and how probable cause determination made
- § 3.2 The nature of probable cause

TABLE OF CONTENTS

- § 3.2(a) Fixed or variable test
- § 3.2(c) Experience and expertise of the officer
- § 3.2(d) Information to be considered
- § 3.2(e) The degree of probability
- § 3.3 Information from an informant
  - § 3.3(b) Past performance by the informant
  - § 3.3(c) Admissions against interest and the like
  - § 3.3(d) Disclosure of basis of knowledge
  - § 3.3(f) Partial corroboration of the informant's tale
- § 3.4 Information from a victim or witness
  - § 3.4(a) The veracity of a crime victim or witness
  - § 3.4(b) Basis of knowledge
  - § 3.4(c) Sufficiency of information supplied
- § 3.5 Information from or held by other police
  - § 3.5(a) The police officer as a reliable source
  - § 3.5(b) Directive or request without underlying facts
  - § 3.5(e) Police investigations and conclusory assertions
- § 3.6 First-hand information
  - § 3.6(a) Possible possession of stolen property
  - § 3.6(b) Possible possession of illegal substance
  - § 3.6(c) Association with another person or with a place
  - § 3.6(e) Flight
  - § 3.6(f) Response to questioning
- § 3.7 Special problems in search cases
  - § 3.7(a) Stale information
  - § 3.7(d) Nexus between crime, objects and place

Chapter 4 Search Warrants

- § 4.1 When must or may warrant be utilized
  - § 4.1(a) The benefits of the warrant process
  - § 4.1(b) Warrantless searches and seizures
  - § 4.1(d) Warrants for obscene materials
  - § 4.1(e) Intrusions into the body
- § 4.2 The "neutral and detached magistrate" requirement
  - § 4.2(f) Limits imposed by statute or court rule
- § 4.4 Probable cause: the facially-sufficient affidavit
  - § 4.4(b) What inaccuracies jeopardize the warrant
  - § 4.4(c) Consequence of inaccuracies
  - § 4.4(d) Procedural matters
- § 4.5 Particular description of place to be searched
  - § 4.5(a) Premises generally
  - § 4.5(b) Multiple-occupancy structure
  - § 4.5(c) Description of more than one place or building
  - § 4.5(d) Vehicles
- § 4.6 Particular description of things to be seized
  - § 4.6(a) General considerations
  - § 4.6(b) Contraband
  - § 4.6(d) Instrumentalities and evidence

- § 4.6(f) Partial invalidity
- § 4.7 Time of execution
  - § 4.7(a) Delay in execution
  - § 4.7(b) Execution in the nighttime
  - § 4.7(c) Execution in absence of occupant
- § 4.8 Entry without notice or by force
  - § 4.8(g) No-knock search warrants
  - § 4.8(h) Use of extraordinary force
- § 4.9 Detention and search of persons
  - § 4.9(e) Detention of person not arrested
- § 4.10 Scope and intensity of the search
  - § 4.10(a) The described place and adjacent areas
  - § 4.10(b) Personal effects in described premises
  - § 4.10(d) Intensity and duration
  - § 4.10(e) Examination of seized objects
- § 4.11 What may be seized
  - § 4.11(a) Objects named in the warrant
  - § 4.11(c) Probable cause
  - § 4.11(f) Subterfuge search
- § 4.12 Miscellaneous requirements
  - § 4.12(a) Exhibiting or delivering warrant
  - § 4.12(c) Return

Volume 3

Chapter 5 Seizure and Search of Persons and Personal Effects

- § 5.1 Arrest
  - § 5.1(a) What constitutes an “arrest”
  - § 5.1(b) Arrest without a warrant
  - § 5.1(d) Use of force
- § 5.2 Search of the person at scene of prior arrest
  - § 5.2(c) Rationale: search for evidence
  - § 5.2(h) Search where no “custodial arrest”
- § 5.3 Search of the person during post-arrest detention
  - § 5.3(c) Inspections of and intrusions into the body
- § 5.4 Other search of the person
  - § 5.4(a) Search for evidence prior to arrest
  - § 5.4(c) Search for purposes other than finding evidence
- § 5.5 Seizure and search of containers and other personal effects
  - § 5.5(a) Search incident to arrest
  - § 5.5(b) Inventory
  - § 5.5(c) Exigent circumstances
  - § 5.5(f) Containers permitting view or inference of contents

Chapter 6 Entry and Search of Premises

- § 6.1 Basis for entry to arrest

TABLE OF CONTENTS

- § 6.1(a) Grounds for entry
- § 6.1(d) The “hot pursuit” exception
- § 6.2 Entry without notice to arrest
  - § 6.2(a) Sources and purposes of the notice requirement
  - § 6.2(b) Manner of entry for which notice ordinarily required
  - § 6.2(f) No-knock warrants
- § 6.4 Search and exploration after arrest
  - § 6.4(c) The “protective sweep”
- § 6.5 Warrantless entry and search for evidence
  - § 6.5(b) Exigent circumstances: destruction or removal of evidence
  - § 6.5(d) Exigent circumstances: risk of death or bodily harm
- § 6.6 Warrantless entry and search for other purposes
  - § 6.6(a) To aid person in need of assistance
  - § 6.6(c) For other purposes
- § 6.7 What may be seized
  - § 6.7(a) Probable cause
  - § 6.7(b) The “immediately apparent” requirement

Chapter 7 Search and Seizure of Vehicles

- § 7.1 Search incident to arrest
  - § 7.1(d) Gant and “offense-related evidence”
- § 7.2 Search and seizure to search for evidence
  - § 7.2(a) The Carroll-Chambers “movable” vehicle exception
  - § 7.2(b) The Carney “readily mobile”-“reduced expectation of privacy” doctrine
  - § 7.2(c) Probable cause; particularity
  - § 7.2(d) Search of containers within vehicle
- § 7.3 Seizure for other purposes
  - § 7.3(b) Vehicle subject to forfeiture or levy
  - § 7.3(c) Impoundment of vehicle for safekeeping
  - § 7.3(d) Impoundment of illegally parked vehicle
  - § 7.3(e) Impoundment of unsafe vehicle
- § 7.4 Search for other purposes
  - § 7.4(a) Inventory of impounded vehicle
  - § 7.4(c) Protecting public from weapon
  - § 7.4(d) Determining ownership of car
  - § 7.4(f) Entry of vehicle to aid person in distress
  - § 7.4(h) Examination of vehicle to determine cause of accident
- § 7.5 Plain view, subterfuge and related matters
  - § 7.5(a) The “plain view” doctrine
  - § 7.5(b) The “immediately apparent” requirement

Volume 4

Chapter 8 Consent Searches

- § 8.1 Nature and scope of consent
  - § 8.1(c) Scope of consent

- § 8.2 Factors bearing upon validity of consent
  - § 8.2(a) Claim of authority
  - § 8.2(b) Show of force and other coercive surroundings
  - § 8.2(d) Prior illegal police action
  - § 8.2(i) Warning or awareness of Fourth Amendment rights
  - § 8.2(l) “Implied” consent by engaging in certain activity
  - § 8.2(m) Deception as to identity
- § 8.3 Third party consent
  - § 8.3(d) Significance of defendant’s prior or contemporaneous refusal to consent to search
  - § 8.3(e) Significance of police failure to seek consent from occupant under suspicion
  - § 8.3(g) Significance of reasonable but mistaken belief by police that third party has authority over place searched
- § 8.4 Family relationships
  - § 8.4(a) Consent by spouse
  - § 8.4(b) Consent by parent
- § 8.5 Real property relationships
  - § 8.5(a) Consent by lessor
  - § 8.5(c) Consent by co-tenant or other joint occupant
- § 8.6 Other relationships
  - § 8.6(a) Consent by bailee

Chapter 9 Stop and Frisk and Similar Lesser Intrusions

- § 9.1 Stop and frisk and Fourth Amendment theory
  - § 9.1(d) Is probable cause required?
- § 9.2 Dimensions of a permissible “stop”
  - § 9.2(c) Nature of the suspected offense
  - § 9.2(d) Use of force; show of force
  - § 9.2(f) Time and investigative method limits
- § 9.3 Routine traffic stops distinguished
  - § 9.3(a) Grounds for stop
  - § 9.3(b) Applicability of the Terry limitations
  - § 9.3(c) Investigative techniques: records check
  - § 9.3(e) Investigative techniques: obtaining consent to search
  - § 9.3(f) Investigative techniques: drug dog sniffing
  - § 9.3(h) From seizure to “consensual encounter”
- § 9.4 Action short of a “stop”
  - § 9.4(a) The Mendenhall-Royer “free to leave” test
  - § 9.4(c) Bus sweeps and the “free to * * * terminate the encounter” test
  - § 9.4(d) Flight and the “force * * * or * * * submission” test
- § 9.5 Grounds for a permissible “stop”
  - § 9.5(a) Of vagueness and subjectivity
  - § 9.5(b) The Terry standard in general
  - § 9.5(c) Suspicion of particular crime or of criminality generally?
  - § 9.5(d) Case-by-case balancing
  - § 9.5(e) Police observation of suspicious conduct re property, premises and persons

TABLE OF CONTENTS

- § 9.5(f) Police observation of suspected drug couriers
- § 9.5(g) Police observation of other suspicious circumstances
- § 9.5(h) Location near scene of recent crime
- § 9.5(i) Information from an informant
- § 9.5(j) Information via police channels
- § 9.6 “Frisk” for weapons
  - § 9.6(a) Basis for initiating a “frisk”
  - § 9.6(b) Need for and extent of pat-down of person
  - § 9.6(c) Grounds to search after pat-down
  - § 9.6(d) Extent of search of person after pat-down
  - § 9.6(e) Protective search beyond the person
- § 9.7 Roadblocks
  - § 9.7(b) Random roadblocks for general enforcement

Volume 5

Chapter 10 Inspections and Regulatory Searches

- § 10.1 Inspection of housing
  - § 10.1(a) From Frank to Camara and See
  - § 10.1(c) The search warrant requirement
- § 10.2 Inspections of businesses
  - § 10.2(a) From Davis to Patel
  - § 10.2(d) Grounds for inspection
  - § 10.2(f) “Carefully limited in time, place and scope”
- § 10.3 Inspections related to government benefits and services
  - § 10.3(a) Inspections concerning welfare and other benefits
  - § 10.3(b) Inspection of mail
  - § 10.3(e) Drug testing of government personnel
  - § 10.3(f) Other seizures and searches directed at government personnel
- § 10.4 Inspections at fire scenes
  - § 10.4(c) Need for a warrant
- § 10.5 Border searches
  - § 10.5(f) Nonroutine search of inanimate objects
  - § 10.5(g) Post-entry searches of persons or things known to have recently entered the country
  - § 10.5(k) Inspections of incoming international mail
- § 10.6 Airport searches
  - § 10.6(c) Scrutiny of all passengers and the administrative search approach
- § 10.7 Other area-entry searches
  - § 10.7(a) Courthouses and other public-use facilities
  - § 10.7(b) Jails and prisons
- § 10.8 Vehicle use regulation
  - § 10.8(a) Driver’s license and vehicle registration checks
  - § 10.8(b) Safety inspections of vehicle equipment
- § 10.9 Searches directed at prisoners

- § 10.9(a) Search of cells and effects
- § 10.9(c) Examination of mail
- § 10.10 Searches directed at parolees and probationers
  - § 10.10(b) The “act of grace” and “waiver” theories
  - § 10.10(c) The “administrative search”—Balancing theory
  - § 10.10(d) Permissible surveillance techniques
  - § 10.10(e) Police involvement; purpose
- § 10.11 Searches directed at students
  - § 10.11(b) The balancing test and public school physical searches
  - § 10.11(e) Need for search warrant

Volume 6

Chapter 11 Administration of the Exclusionary Rule

- § 11.2 The motion to suppress
  - § 11.2(d) Hearing; receipt of evidence
  - § 11.2(g) Effect of ruling in another case
- § 11.3 Standing
  - § 11.3(b) Residential premises: other persons then lawfully present
  - § 11.3(c) Residential premises: other invitees and guests and persons with effects on the premises
  - § 11.3(d) Business premises
  - § 11.3(e) Vehicles
  - § 11.3(f) Other storage places; containers and effects in transit
- § 11.4 The “fruit of the poisonous tree”
  - § 11.4(a) Extent of the taint: “but for”; “attenuated connection”; “independent source”; and “inevitable discovery”
  - § 11.4(b) Confession as fruit of illegal arrest
  - § 11.4(d) Search as fruit of prior illegal arrest or detention
  - § 11.4(f) Search as fruit of prior illegal search
  - § 11.4(g) Identification of person as fruit of prior illegal arrest
- § 11.7 Appeal and collateral attack
  - § 11.7(c) Standards of appellate review

Table of Cases

Table of Laws and Rules

Table of Secondary Authorities

Index