Washington Probate Law and Practice, 2d.

Washington Practice Series, Volume 26B

By Ferd H. Mitchell and Cheryl C. Mitchell

Enclosed is the 2025 pocket part to Probate Law and Practice, Vol. 26B of the Washington Practice Series. This enclosure replaces the 2024 pocket part. Please note that, for ease of handling, the materials in this shipment may ship in more than one box. Comparable practice management materials for Elder Law are found in the 2025 editions of Washington Elder Law and Health Law (Part 1) and Washington Elder Law and Health Law (Part 2).

Shelving Instructions

- REMOVE and RECYCLE the 2024 pocket part
- PLACE the new 2025 pocket part in the back of Volume 26B.

Highlights

New features and recent developments in this 2025 supplement include:

- This 2025 edition of the pocket part for Volume 26B extends the discussion to include further examples and applications of generative AI for estate-related practices.
- Overview of the key features of Probate Law practices as they have evolved over several years as the result of the disruptive influences of COVID-19 and continuing shifts in the financial details of estate practices. The potential applications and limitations afforded by generative AI are introduced.
- Special Notice of Proceedings are further discussed for non-intervention and full-intervention probates (§§ 6:5, 7:5, 8:5, 9:5, 10:5, 11:5).
- Appeal by a claimant of the rejection or lack of action by the Personal Representative regarding a creditor's claim is further considered (§§ 18:6, 26:6).
