

Table of Contents

Chapter 1 General Provisions

Rule 101 Scope

§ 101.4 Rules are subject to constitutional requirements—Whether a criminal defendant may introduce exculpatory evidence despite the rules

§ 101.4A Rules are subject to constitutional requirements—Whether criminal defendant had sufficient representation [New]

Rule 103 Rulings on Evidence

§ 103.6 Pretrial rulings (motions in limine)—Foundations for appeal

§ 103.7 Objection at trial must be timely and specific—Generally

§ 103.8 Objection at trial must be timely and specific—Timeliness, motions to strike, continuing objections, speaking objections, and courtroom protocol

§ 103.11 Objection at trial must be timely and specific—Specificity

§ 103.13 Waiver of objections—Generally

§ 103.14 Waiver of objections—“Opening the door”

§ 103.15 Waiver of objections—Evidence to explain, clarify, or contradict

§ 103.23 Appellate review of evidentiary rulings—Generally

§ 103.24 Appellate review of evidentiary rulings—Harmless error

Rule 104 Preliminary Questions

§ 104.3 Preliminary determinations made by judge—Generally

Rule 105 Limited Admissibility

§ 105.2 Limiting instructions—Generally

§ 105.3 Limiting instructions, instructions to disregard—Sufficiency, constitutional considerations

Rule 106 Remainder of Related Writings or Recorded Statements

§ 106.3 Related evidence may be introduced contemporaneously—Whether admissibility of related evidence is subject to other rules

Chapter 2 Judicial Notice

Rule 201 Judicial Notice of Adjudicative Facts

§ 201.3 Judicial notice of adjudicative facts—Personal knowledge of judge distinguished

§ 201.5 Judicial notice of adjudicative facts—Facts that can be readily verified

§ 201.7 Judicial notice of adjudicative facts—Procedure for taking judicial notice

§ 201.9 Judicial notice of court records, testimony

§ 201.16 Judicial notice of legislative facts, context, and history
[Retitled]

§ 201.18 Law review articles and other commentary on Rule 201

Chapter 3 Burden of Proof and Presumptions

Rule 301 Presumptions in General in Civil Actions and Proceedings [Retitled]

- § 301.6 Burden of proof in criminal cases—Proof of affirmative defenses
- § 301.7 Burden of proof in criminal cases—Appellate review
- § 301.10 Example presumptions
- § 301.18 Constitutional restrictions on presumptions—Criminal cases

Chapter 4 Relevancy and Its Limits

Rule 401 Definition of “Relevant Evidence”

§ 401.5 Relevant evidence defined—Materiality

Rule 402 Relevant Evidence Generally Admissible; Irrelevant Evidence Inadmissible

- § 402.2 Effect of statutes and other court rules purporting to make evidence inadmissible or admissible
 - § 402.4 Conduct revealing consciousness of guilt or other wrongdoing—Generally—Criminal cases
 - § 402.6 Conduct revealing consciousness of guilt or other wrongdoing—Destruction, loss, concealment, or alteration of evidence—Spoliation
 - § 402.15 Violation of law or safety standards as evidence of unsafe product
 - § 402.19 Evidence suggesting a different person committed the crime charged
 - § 402.23 Demonstrative evidence—Photographs generally
 - § 402.24 Demonstrative evidence—Photographs that are gruesome or otherwise prejudicial
 - § 402.26 Demonstrative evidence—Audio (sound only) recordings
 - § 402.30 Demonstrative evidence—Models replicas, and similar devices
 - § 402.32 Demonstrative evidence—Demonstrations and experiments during trial
 - § 402.33 Demonstrative evidence—Experiments or tests before trial
 - § 402.40 Status of exhibits and other demonstrative evidence—Generally
 - § 402.43 Scientific evidence (DNA, polygraph, breath tests, medical issues, and the like)
 - § 402.46 Miscellaneous holdings on relevance—Civil cases
 - § 402.47 Miscellaneous holdings on relevance—Criminal cases
 - § 402.48 Law review articles and other commentary on Rule 402
- Rule 403 Exclusion of Relevant Evidence on Grounds of Prejudice, Confusion, or Waste of Time
- § 403.2 The balancing process—Generally
 - § 403.3 The balancing process—Unfair prejudice
 - § 403.4 The balancing process—Confusion
 - § 403.7 The balancing process—Surprise, evidence not disclosed during discovery

TABLE OF CONTENTS

- § 403.8 The balancing process—Evidence lacking credibility or reliability
- § 403.9 The balancing process—Evidence crucial to a valid defense
- § 403.10 The balancing process—Offer to stipulate to fact, effect—Old Chief rule
- § 403.12 Law review articles and other commentary on Rule 403
- Rule 404 Character Evidence Not Admissible to Prove Conduct; Exceptions; Other Crimes
 - § 404.2 Definition of character evidence
 - § 404.5 Character evidence in criminal or quasi-criminal cases—Character of accused
 - § 404.6 Character evidence in criminal or quasi-criminal cases—Character of victim
 - § 404.9 Other crimes, wrongs, or acts—Overview of Rule 404(b)
 - § 404.10 Other crimes, wrongs, or acts—Policy and purpose of rule
 - § 404.11 Other crimes, wrongs, or acts—Definition of crimes, wrongs, or acts
 - § 404.15 Other crimes, wrongs, or acts—Relationship between Rule 404(b) and other rules [Retitled]
 - § 404.16 Crimes, wrongs, or acts inadmissible to prove character or general propensities
 - § 404.17 Admissibility on issues other than character—Generally
 - § 404.18 Admissibility on issues other than character—Inseparable part of crime charged (res gestae)
 - § 404.19 Admissibility on issues other than character—Preparation, opportunity, and other circumstantial evidence of crime charged
 - § 404.20 Admissibility on issues other than character—Common scheme or plan
 - § 404.21 Admissibility on issues other than character—Knowledge, or rebutting claim of accident or mistake
 - § 404.22 Admissibility on issues other than character—Identity
 - § 404.23 Admissibility on issues other than character—Distinctive modus operandi
 - § 404.24 Admissibility on issues other than character—Motive
 - § 404.25 Admissibility on issues other than character—Intent
 - § 404.26 Admissibility on issues other than character—Prior sexual offenses—Overview [Retitled]
 - § 404.27 Admissibility on issues other than character—Prior sexual offenses against adult victims [Retitled]
 - § 404.27A Admissibility on issues other than character—Prior child abuse (physical or sexual) [New]
 - § 404.28 Admissibility on issues other than character—To prove element of crime charged, or element of civil claim or defense
 - § 404.29 Admissibility on issues other than character—Admissibility for other miscellaneous purposes
 - § 404.30 Admissibility on issues other than character—Domestic violence, prior incidents, admissibility under Rule 404(b)

- § 404.31 Admissibility on issues other than character—Opening the door to rebuttal
- § 404.32 Balancing probative value against prejudice
- § 404.33 Burden of proof under Rule 404(b)
- § 404.36 Jury instructions under Rule 404(b)
- § 404.37 Appellate review under Rule 404(b)
- § 404.38 Law review articles and other commentary on Rule 404

Table of Contents

Chapter 4 Relevancy and Its Limits (Continued)

- Rule 405 Methods of Proving Character
 - § 405.2 Proof by reputation
 - § 405.4 Specific instances of conduct—Criminal cases
- Rule 406 Habit; Routine Practice
 - § 406.4 Routine practice of an organization—Definitions
 - § 406.5 Routine practice of an organization—Illustrative cases
- Rule 407 Subsequent Remedial Measures
 - § 407.5 Admissibility for other purposes—Generally
 - § 407.7 Admissibility for other purposes—For impeachment
- Rule 408 Compromise and Offers to Compromise
 - § 408.4 What evidence is barred by Rule 408—Negotiations and actual settlements
 - § 408.8 Admissibility for other purposes—Generally
 - § 408.12 Law review articles and other commentary on Rule 408
- Rule 409 Payment of Medical and Similar Expenses
 - § 409.2 Payment of another’s medical expenses inadmissible to prove liability
 - § 409.3 Admissibility on issue of damages, collateral source rule, setoffs
 - § 409.4 Special considerations in medical malpractice cases
- Rule 411 Liability Insurance
 - § 411.3 Admissibility on other issues
- Rule 412 Sexual Offenses—Victim’s Past Behavior
 - § 412.3 Criminal cases—What evidence is barred
 - § 412.6 Protection order proceedings
 - § 412.8 Law review articles and other commentary on Rule 412
- Rule 413 Immigration Status
 - § 413.1 Purpose and History of Rule 413
 - § 413.2 Drafters’ Comments accompanying original ER 413, which took effect September 1, 2018 [Retitled]
 - § 413.3 Drafters’ Comments accompanying 2021 amendment to ER 413 [New]
 - § 413.4 Status of Washington case law [Retitled]
 - § 413.5 Law review articles and other commentary on Rule 413

Chapter 5 Privileges

- Rule 501 Privileges—General Rule
 - § 501.2 Privileges in general—Introduction—When privileges apply
 - § 501.5 Privileges in General—Comment on claim of privilege—Jury instructions

- § 501.7 Privileges in general—Discovery rules distinguished
- § 501.10 Source and purpose of attorney-client privilege
- § 501.11 Communications to which privilege applies—Generally
- § 501.12 Communications to which privilege applies—Requirement of attorney-client relationship [Retitled]
- § 501.13 Communications to which privilege applies—Communications with persons employed by, or aligned with, attorney or client
- § 501.14 Communications to which privilege applies—Business entities and in-house counsel [Retitled]
- § 501.15 Communications to which privilege applies—Business entities and in-house counsel—Medical malpractice cases [Retitled]
- § 501.18 Communications to which privilege applies—Must be intended as confidential
- § 501.19 Communications to which privilege applies—Presence of third persons, joint representation
- § 501.21 Who may assert privilege
- § 501.22 Communications in furtherance of crime of fraud—Generally
- § 501.23 Communications in furtherance of crime or fraud—Actions alleging bad faith by insurer [Retitled]
- § 501.25 Other restrictions and exceptions
- § 501.26 Waiver of privilege—Generally
- § 501.31 Work product rule distinguished
- § 501.32 Law review articles and other commentary on attorney-client privilege
- § 501.33 Source and purpose of privilege
- § 501.39 Restrictions and exceptions
- § 501.43 Source and purpose of rule
- § 501.44 Privilege for confidential communications distinguished
- § 501.45 When and to what the rule of incompetency applies
- § 501.46 Restrictions and exceptions
- § 501.47 Objection and waiver
- § 501.51 Law review articles and other commentary on privilege for spouses and registered domestic partners
- § 501.52 Source and purpose of physician-patient privilege
- § 501.53 Physician-patient relationship required
- § 501.54 Information protected by the privilege—Communications and records generally
- § 501.55 Information protected by the privilege—Must be intended as confidential
- § 501.58 Who may assert privilege
- § 501.59 Restrictions and exceptions—Generally
- § 501.61 Waiver of privilege—Generally
- § 501.73 Overcoming confidentiality for purposes of litigation
- § 501.74 Federal HIPAA rules
- § 501.76 Psychologist-client privilege generally
- § 501.77 Waiver, other limitations in forensic settings
- § 501.80 Governmental communications generally

TABLE OF CONTENTS

- § 501.97 Law review articles and other commentary on privilege for clergy members
- § 501.98 Social workers, therapists, other counselors, special advocates
- § 501.99 Drug and alcohol treatment
- § 501.101 Nurses
- § 501.105 Privilege for journalists
- § 501.107 Communications covertly recorded or intercepted (eavesdropping and wiretapping under the privacy statutes)
- § 501.110 Law review articles and other commentary on other privileges and nonprivileges
- § 501.112 Records, reports, and proceedings labeled confidential by statute—Examples
- Rule 502 Attorney-Client Privilege and Work Product; Limitations on Waiver
- § 502.2 Waiver by disclosure

Chapter 6 Witnesses

- Rule 601 General Rule of Competency
- § 601.5 Children as witnesses—Guidelines, illustrative cases
- § 601.8 Children as witnesses—Psychological concerns
- § 601.14 Dead man statute generally
- § 601.28 Waiver of dead man statute
- § 601.29 Spouse of party
- § 601.32 Law review articles and other commentary on Rule 601
- Rule 602 Lack of Personal Knowledge
- § 602.2 Requirement of personal knowledge—Generally
- § 602.4 Specific applications—State of mind of witness or another person
- § 602.6 Specific applications—Testimony phrased as “I think,” “I believe,” or the like
- § 602.10 Procedure—Roles of judge and jury
- § 602.11 Law review articles and other commentary on Rule 602
- Rule 604 Interpreters
- § 604.2 Appointment of interpreter
- § 604.3 Qualifications, oath, compensation
- Rule 605 Competency of Judge as Witness
- § 605.2 Judge may not testify, gather evidence, or summarize evidence
- § 605.4 Other persons in quasi-judicial positions
- Rule 607 Who May Impeach
- § 607.4 Jury instructions concerning impeachment
- § 607.7 Bias, prejudice, or motive to fabricate—Generally
- § 607.8 Bias, prejudice, or motive to fabricate—What is relevant to show bias
- § 607.11 Sensory or mental limitations
- § 607.12 Use of alcohol or drugs
- § 607.13 Eyewitness identification, reliability

- § 607.15 Demeanor
- § 607.24 Law review articles and other commentary on impeachment generally
- Rule 608 Evidence of Character and Conduct of Witness
 - § 608.6 Cross-examination regarding specific instances of conduct—
What subjects may be explored on cross-examination
 - § 608.7 Cross-examination regarding specific instances of conduct—
Conduct unrelated to present case
 - § 608.11 Extrinsic evidence of conduct inadmissible—Generally
 - § 608.13 Opinion on credibility inadmissible—Generally—Vouching
 - § 608.16 Opinion on credibility inadmissible—Obvious opinions and implied opinions—Illustrative cases
 - § 608.17 Rehabilitation by evidence of good character—Generally
 - § 608.19 Constitutional considerations under Rule 608
 - § 608.20 Appellate review of rulings under Rule 608
 - § 608.21 Law review articles and other commentary on Rule 608
- Rule 609 Impeachment by Evidence of Conviction of Crime
 - § 609.2 Relationship to other rules
 - § 609.3 Definition of conviction
 - § 609.7 Crimes not involving dishonesty or false statement—
Balancing probative value against prejudice
 - § 609.9 Crimes not involving dishonesty or false statement—Opening the door on direct examination
 - § 609.12 Details surrounding conviction, explanation by witness
 - § 609.19 Law review articles and other commentary on Rule 609
- Rule 611 Mode and Order of Interrogation and Presentation
 - § 611.3 Relationship to other rules, constitutional considerations
 - § 611.4 Mode and order of presentation
 - § 611.11 Scope of cross-examination—Collateral or irrelevant matters
 - § 611.12 Criminal cases, right to confrontation
 - § 611.17 Objection to form of question—Leading questions
 - § 611.19 Objection to form of question—Argumentative or misleading questions; harassment of witness
- Rule 612 Writing Used to Refresh Memory
 - § 612.2 Overview of matters addressed by Rule 612, civil vs. criminal cases
 - § 612.4 Nature of the writing used to refresh witness' memory
- Rule 613 Prior Statements of Witnesses
 - § 613.2 Overview of matters addressed by Rule 613
 - § 613.6 Statement must be inconsistent with witness's testimony—
Material omissions, failure to remember
- Rule 614 Calling and Interrogation of Witnesses by Court
 - § 614.5 Nonjury cases

Table of Contents

Chapter 7 Opinions and Expert Testimony

- Rule 701 Opinion Testimony by Lay Witnesses
 - § 701.2 Distinguishing between fact and opinion
 - § 701.5 Lay opinion may be allowed if helpful—Potential objections under Rule 701
 - § 701.9 Specific applications—Mental capacity, sanity
 - § 701.10 Specific applications—Diminished capacity to form intent
 - § 701.11 Specific applications—State of mind of self or others, demeanor
 - § 701.12 Specific applications—Intoxication or drug influence
 - § 701.14 Specific applications—Identity of person, handwriting
 - § 701.21 Specific applications—Other
 - § 701.22 Law review articles and other commentary on Rule 701
- Rule 702 Testimony by Experts
 - § 702.2 Discovery rules distinguished
 - § 702.3 Summary judgment distinguished
 - § 702.4 Types of experts—Expert witnesses, fact experts, consultants, experts employed by opposing party, and the like
 - § 702.5 Qualifying the witness as an expert—General rules
 - § 702.6 Qualifying the witness as an expert—Procedure, related considerations
 - § 702.9 Illustrative cases—Medical issues, mental health issues
 - § 702.15 Expert testimony must be helpful and relevant
 - § 702.16 Subject matter should be beyond common understanding and knowledge—Generally
 - § 702.17 Subject matter should be beyond common understanding and knowledge—Applying the rule, illustrative cases
 - § 702.18 General acceptance in scientific community (Frye)—Generally
 - § 702.19 General acceptance in scientific community—Nature of Frye objection, other rules distinguished
 - § 702.20 General acceptance in scientific community—Overcoming Frye objections
 - § 702.21 General acceptance in scientific community (Frye)—Criminal cases vs. civil cases
 - § 702.22 General acceptance in scientific community (Frye)—Applying the rule, illustrative cases
 - § 702.23 General acceptance in scientific community (Frye)—Procedure, laying the foundation, review on appeal, waiver
 - § 702.24 Avoiding conjecture and speculation—General rules
 - § 702.25 Avoiding conjecture and speculation—Applying the rule, illustrative cases

- § 702.26 Avoiding conjecture and speculation—Admissibility vs. weight of evidence
- § 702.30 Physical characteristics, dangerousness, feasibility, and the like
- § 702.31 Medical opinions—Generally
- § 702.32 Medical opinions—Reasonable medical certainty
- § 702.33 Medical opinions—Diminished capacity, insanity, and the like
- § 702.34 Eyewitness identification
- § 702.36 Syndromes caused by stress or trauma
- § 702.37 Scientific evidence—Generally
- § 702.38 Scientific evidence—Handwriting analysis
- § 702.39 Scientific evidence—Tests for intoxication or drug use
- § 702.40 Scientific evidence—Genetic (DNA) testing for identification, paternity, or the like
- § 702.42 Scientific evidence—Polygraph
- § 702.43 Scientific evidence—Other scientific evidence
- § 702.44 Mathematical probabilities, statistics
- § 702.45 Profile or pattern evidence
- § 702.46 Credibility of other witnesses
- § 702.47 Miscellaneous subjects of expert testimony
- § 702.49 Pretrial disclosure of expert opinion—Relationship to admissibility
- § 702.50 When expert testimony is required
- § 702.52 Effect of expert testimony—Generally
- § 702.53 Effect of expert testimony—Sufficiency of the evidence
- § 702.55 Expert’s duty to testify, expert witness fees, ethical considerations
- § 702.57 Law review articles and other commentary on Rule 702
- Rule 703 Bases of Opinion Testimony by Experts
- § 703.3 Basis for expert’s opinion—Opinion based on firsthand knowledge or testimony by others
- § 703.5 Basis for expert’s opinion—Opinion based on other reasonable sources of information
- § 703.7 Basis for expert’s opinion—Opinion based on confidential information
- § 703.8 Adequacy of basis to support opinion
- § 703.11 Law review articles and other commentary on Rule 703
- Rule 704 Opinion on Ultimate Issue
- § 704.6 Conclusions of law—Criminal cases
- § 704.7 Conclusions of law—Civil cases
- § 704.9 Conclusions of law—Overcoming the legal-conclusion objection
- § 704.10 Opinions on credibility
- Rule 705 Disclosure of Facts or Data Underlying Expert Opinion
- § 705.4 When may underlying data be disclosed?
- § 705.5 Underlying data is not substantive evidence unless otherwise admissible
- § 705.7 Cross-examination and impeachment of experts—Scope of cross-examination

TABLE OF CONTENTS

- § 705.8 Cross-examination and impeachment of experts—Other methods of impeachment
- § 705.9 Importance of pretrial preparation
- Rule 706 Court-Appointed Experts
- § 706.5 Law review articles and other commentary on Rule 706

Chapter 8 Hearsay

Rule 801 Hearsay Definitions

- § 801.3 Definition of statement and assertion
- § 801.6 Definition of declarant—Persons, organizations, language translators, machines, animals, inanimate objects
- § 801.8 Definition of hearsay—To prove the matter asserted
- § 801.9 Statements in issue and verbal acts
- § 801.11 Statements offered only for impeachment
- § 801.12 Self-serving statements, statements lacking credibility, presence or absence of opposing party
- § 801.13 Borderline situations—Carefully worded testimony that avoids direct quotation
- § 801.14 Borderline situations—Statements to show background, purpose, or context
- § 801.15 Borderline situations—Implied assertions
- § 801.17 Law review articles and other commentary on hearsay generally
- § 801.18 Prior statements by witnesses, generally
- § 801.21 Prior inconsistent statements—What constitutes another proceeding?
- § 801.22 Prior inconsistent statements—Degree of inconsistency required
- § 801.25 Prior consistent statements—Statement must rebut charge of recent fabrication, improper influence, or improper motive
- § 801.32 Statements of identification—Constitutional considerations (impermissibly suggestive circumstances)
- § 801.33 Law review articles and other commentary on prior statements by witnesses
- § 801.34 Admissions by party-opponent, general considerations
- § 801.36 What constitutes an admission?—Admissions required by law
- § 801.38 Personal knowledge, opinion, and legal conclusions; mental competency
- § 801.39 Personal statement by party-opponent
- § 801.40 Adopted statements—Generally
- § 801.41 Adopted statements—Illustrative cases
- § 801.43 Admissions by silence in civil cases—Generally
- § 801.44 Admissions by silence in civil cases—Effect of privilege against self-incrimination in civil cases
- § 801.45 Admissions by silence in criminal cases—Generally
- § 801.46 Admissions by silence in criminal cases—Effect of privilege against incrimination and other constitutional restrictions in criminal cases [Retitled]
- § 801.48 Admissions by agents and employees—Who qualifies as a speaking agent

- § 801.50 Admissions by coparties
- § 801.51 Admissions by persons in privity with party
- § 801.54 Effect of admissions—Judicial admissions
- § 801.57 Law review articles and other commentary on admissions by party-opponent
- § 801.58 Statements in furtherance of conspiracy—Introduction and relationship to other rules
- Rule 802 Hearsay Rule
- § 802.4 Admissibility for nonhearsay purpose
- § 802.5 Waiver of hearsay objection

Table of Contents

Chapter 8 Hearsay (Continued)

- Rule 803 Hearsay Exceptions; Availability of Declarant Immaterial
- § 803.1 Purpose and history of Rule 803
- § 803.6 Excited utterances—Applying the rule, illustrative cases
- § 803.7 Excited utterances—Complaint of sexual assault or abuse
- § 803.9 Law review articles and other commentary on present sense impressions and excited utterances
- § 803.11 Statements describing then-existing emotions or feelings
- § 803.12 Statements of intent or plan
- § 803.15 Statements to show effect on hearer or reader
- § 803.16 Statements as circumstantial evidence of declarant’s state of mind
- § 803.19 Statements for purposes of medical diagnosis or treatment, generally
- § 803.21 Statements to persons other than physicians
- § 803.23 Statements concerning fault, causation, or other background facts
- § 803.25 Law review articles and other commentary on statements for medical diagnosis or treatment
- § 803.26 Recorded recollection generally, relationship to other rules
- § 803.28 Foundation requirements—Case law interpretations
- § 803.30 Joint authorship
- § 803.32 Business records, generally
- § 803.33 Relationship to other rules
- § 803.34 Overview of statutory requirements
- § 803.35 What constitutes a business record?
- § 803.36 Record must be of an act, condition, or event
- § 803.37 Records compiled for purposes of litigation; accident reports; laboratory reports
- § 803.38 Records based upon reports from third parties; hearsay within hearsay; partial admissibility
- § 803.39 Overall reliability as a factor in admissibility
- § 803.40 Business records “going to the heart”
- § 803.41 Procedure; establishing foundation requirements; identification and authentication
- § 803.42 Method of proof
- § 803.46 Relationship to other rules
- § 803.47 Requirements for admissibility
- § 803.48 Illustrative cases
- § 803.49 Vital statistics
- § 803.50 Identification and authentication of public records

- § 803.52 Law review articles and other commentary on public records
- § 803.62 Market reports, commercial publications
- § 803.67 Using learned treatises on cross-examination, redirect
- § 803.69 Reputation generally
- § 803.70 Reputation concerning personal or family history
- § 803.72 Reputation as to character
- § 803.74 Judgments as evidence, generally
- § 803.76 Judgment of previous conviction—Validity of prior conviction
- Rule 804 Hearsay Exceptions; Declarant Unavailable
- § 804.5 Refusal to testify
- § 804.6 Lack of memory
- § 804.7 Death or infirmity, incompetency to testify
- § 804.11 Unavailability procured by proponent
- § 804.14 Former testimony generally, relationship to other rules and right to confrontation
- § 804.16 Nature of former proceedings—Depositions, administrative hearings, arbitration hearings, affidavits
- § 804.18 Opportunity and motive to develop former testimony—Generally—Right to confrontation
- § 804.23 Dying declarations—Generally—Right to confrontation
- § 804.32 Motives of declarant
- § 804.33 Statements against pecuniary or proprietary interest
- § 804.34 Statements against penal interest—Generally
- § 804.35 Statements against penal interest—Trustworthiness
- § 804.37 Constitutional and procedural considerations, right to confrontation
- § 804.40 Statement of personal or family history
- Rule 806 Attacking and Supporting Credibility of Declarant
- § 806.2 Hearsay declarant subject to impeachment
- § 806.3 Law review articles and other commentary on Rule 806
- Rule 807 Child Victims or Witnesses
- § 807.3 Constitutional background, right to confrontation
- § 807.4 Purpose of statute and relationship to other rules
- § 807.5 Scope of statute
- § 807.6 Requirement that child testify or be declared unavailable
- § 807.7 Requirement of reliability
- § 807.10 Appeal, waiver

Chapter 9 Authentication, Identification, and Admission of Exhibits

- § 900.5 Evidence that is relevant regardless of authenticity
- § 900.6 Avoiding authentication requirements by procedures prior to trial
- Rule 901 Requirement of Authentication or Identification
- § 901.2 General rule
- § 901.6 Testimony of witness with knowledge
- § 901.6A Written declaration of witness with knowledge [New]
- § 901.7 Nonexpert opinion on handwriting

TABLE OF CONTENTS

- § 901.8 Comparison by court or expert witness
- § 901.15 Public records or reports—Statutes
- § 901.21 Process or system—Photographs, video recordings, motion pictures
- § 901.22 Process or system—Computer-generated documents
- § 901.22A Artificial Intelligence (AI) evidence [New]
- § 901.23 Electronic communications—E-mail, text messages, postings on social media, and the like
- § 901.24 Information found on the Internet
- § 901.27 Methods provided by statute or rule
- § 901.28 Law review articles and other commentary on Rule 901
- Rule 902 Self-Authentication
- § 902.5 Certified copies of public records
- Rule 904 Admissibility of Documents
- § 904.1 Purpose and history of Rule 904

Chapter 10 Contents of Writings, Recordings, and Photographs

- Rule 1002 Requirement of Original
- § 1002.5 Specific applications—Photographs, video recordings, images originally displayed on computer monitors
- Rule 1005 Public Records
- § 1005.4 Criminal convictions

Chapter 11 Miscellaneous Rules

- Rule 1101 Applicability of Rules
- § 1101.1 Purpose and history of Rule 1101
- § 1101.2 Proceedings in which the rules apply generally, waiver of rules
- § 1101.8 Proceedings in which the rules are inapplicable—Sentencing and probation hearings
- § 1101.10 Proceedings in which the rules are inapplicable—Other
- § 1101.13 Mandatory arbitration hearings

Chapter 12 The Parol Evidence Rule

- § 1200.4 Rule applies only to contractual provisions, not recitals of fact
- § 1200.22 Parol evidence under the Uniform Commercial Code

Chapter 13 The Right to Confrontation

- § 1300.2 Federal law vs. state law
- § 1300.3 Historical trends, retroactivity
- § 1300.5 Procedural implications, consideration on appeal
- § 1300.6 When, and to what, does the confrontation clause apply?
- § 1300.7 Comment on assertion of right to confrontation
- § 1300.9 Right to confrontation applies only to hearsay (statement to prove truth of matter asserted)
- § 1300.10 Right to confrontation applies only to testimonial hearsay—Definition of testimonial

- § 1300.12 Statements to police, calls to 911, reports prepared for police or prosecuting attorney
- § 1300.13 Excited utterances other than calls to 911
- § 1300.14 Statements that are and are not testimonial—Statements to medical personnel, psychologists, therapists, and the like [Retitled]
- § 1300.16 Statements that are and are not testimonial—Public records, business records
- § 1300.17 Statements that are and are not testimonial—Laboratory reports and similar evidence prepared for litigation
- § 1300.18 What statements are and are not testimonial—Other
- § 1300.19 State’s duty to produce declarant for cross-examination—Generally
- § 1300.20 State’s duty to produce declarant for cross-examination—What constitutes sufficient cross-examination
- § 1300.21 Expert opinion based on report of person not present at trial
- § 1300.22 Waiver, opening the door, forfeiture by wrongdoing [Retitled]
- § 1300.23 Harmless error—Violation of hearsay rule vs. violation of right to confrontation [Retitled]
- § 1300.24 Impediment to cross-examination or impeachment of witness—Generally
- § 1300.27 Waiver of right to cross-examine [Retitled]
- § 1300.28 Harmless error—Impairment of cross examination or impeachment vs. violation of right to confrontation [Retitled]
- § 1300.29 Statements by nontestifying codefendants (Bruton)
- § 1300.30 Courtroom arrangements—Closed-circuit television, one-way screens, video recordings, and the like [Retitled]
- § 1300.30A Courtroom arrangements—Video conferencing, testimony by remote means [New]
- § 1300.31 Miscellaneous applications of right to confrontation
- § 1300.32 Law reviews and other commentary on the right to confrontation

Table of Laws and Rules

Table of Cases

Index