

Highlights for the 2025-2026 Update

Domestic Torts: Divorce Injury Claims in Family Law is an essential resource for attorneys practicing either family law or personal injury law. The treatise provides a complete examination of domestic torts, exploring both the psychological and legal aspects of domestic tort cases. New features and recent developments include updates to:

- Chapter 1. Domestic Torts
 - New Sec. 1:4. Domestic tort claims may dramatically change the outcome of divorces
 - Revised Sec. 1:5. The problem: Family law attorneys failing to address clients' rights
 - New Sec. 1:6. The benefit to attorneys in representing domestic injury claims

- Chapter 3. Violent Domestic Torts
 - Revised Sec. 3:43. Res judicata and collateral estoppel

- Chapter 9. Interference with Parent-Child Relationship
 - Revised Sec. 9:3. Intentional interference with parental custody rights
 - Revised Sec. 9:7. Intentional infliction of emotional distress

- Chapter 13. Third-Party Liability—Professionals and Business
 - Revised Sec. 13:18. Reporting statutes—Private cause of action

- Chapter 15. Insurance Coverage
 - Revised Sec. 15:2. Resident of home or named insured exclusion

This 2025-2026 Edition fully replaces the 2024-2025 Edition. Please recycle or discard the 2024-2025 Edition.