

Introduction to the 2025-2026 Edition

The Legal List: Research on the Internet is a valuable guide to the many ways lawyers are using the internet—from communication to public relations to research—and teaches you how to best approach an online research project. It should be a part of every legal researcher’s personal reference library.

Updates to this edition of The Legal List include:

- Updated URLs to hypertext transfer protocol secure where available
- Updates to changed URLs for websites changing their web address
- Additions of new websites to existing lists and topics throughout the book
- Updates and additions of social media URLs for law schools where available

In addition to these updates, the following has been added:

- In Chapter 2, a new list has been added for AI focused blogs
- In Chapter 3, a under section 21, the list of General AI resources has been doubled
- In Chapter 6, a new section has been added with a list of immigration related resources
- In Chapter 12, a new section has been added providing business competitive intelligence resources
- In Chapter 13, under Section 3, a new list of Aviation, Satellite, Marine, and Rail Tracking websites has been added

Please refer to the Table of Contents to assist with locating the particular topics covered.