- § 1:35 The interstate compact and related issues

- § 1:36 Equal protection
- § 1:37 Under 21 zero tolerance
- § 1:38 Vicarious liability

CHAPTER 2. DRUG-INFLUENCED OPERATING OFFENSES

- § 2:1 Drug-induced impairment—Marijuana
- § 2:2 Contrasting blood levels with physiological and psychomotor effects
- § 2:3 Typical statute
- § 2:4 Typical per se marijuana statute
- § 2:5 Medical marijuana
- § 2:6 The drug recognition examination
- § 2:7 Proof of drug impairment
- § 2:8 Drugs used in combination with alcohol
- § 2:9 Constitutionality
- § 2:10 Typical direct and cross of the state's expert
- § 2:11 Circuit court jurisdiction over misdemeanors when felony also charged

CHAPTER 3. HOMICIDES AND ASSAULTS

- § 3:1 Introduction
- § 3:2 Statutory provisions—Generally
- § 3:3 Typical statutory scheme—New York
- § 3:4 Culpability—Negligence
- § 3:5 Proximate cause—Generally
- § 3:6 —Intoxication, proof required
- § 3:7 —Intoxication, proof not required
- § 3:8 Culpability, gross negligence
- § 3:9 Contributory negligence and superseding cause
- § 3:10 Presumption of negligence from intoxication, constitutional issues
- § 3:11 Culpability, recklessness
- § 3:12 Victim, fetus
- § 3:13 Depraved indifference murder
- § 3:14 Particular instances

PART II. THE ARREST

CHAPTER 4. STOPS

- § 4:1 Importance of analyzing the stop
- § 4:2 Delaware v. Prouse
- § 4:3 Whren and beyond, is Delaware v. Prouse dead?
- § 4:4 The pretextual stop
- § 4:5 Constitutionality of pretextual stops
- § 4:6 Community caretaking function
- § 4:7 Mistake of law

TABLE OF CONTENTS

- § 4:8 Litigation under the standard
- § 4:9 Crossing the pavement markings
- § 4:10 Anonymous tips—Navarette v. California
- § 4:11 —Post Navarette decisions
- § 4:12 —Pre-Navarette decisions

CHAPTER 5. ROADBLOCKS

- § 5:1 Federal constitutional principles
- § 5:2 State constitutional grounds
- § 5:3 Roadblock litigation
- § 5:4 U-turns
- § 5:5 Roadblock plans
- § 5:6 Litigation suggestions
- § 5:7 Selected cases

CHAPTER 6. ARRESTS

- § 6:1 Introduction
- § 6:2 Probable cause to arrest
- § 6:3 Distinguished from probable cause to search
- § 6:4 Probable cause to arrest for driving while intoxicated/drugs
- § 6:5 Probable cause provided by another
- § 6:6 Use of cell phone data
- § 6:7 “Step from the car”
- § 6:8 Warrantless home arrests
- § 6:9 Litigation of home arrests
- § 6:10 Suggested analysis
- § 6:11 Point of arrest
- § 6:12 “Holdover arrests”
- § 6:13 Applicability of Miranda
- § 6:14 “In custody”
- § 6:15 Retroactivity of Berkemer
- § 6:16 Selected cases
- § 6:17 Representative Miranda cases
- § 6:18 Hospital questioning
- § 6:19 DWI and the hearing impaired—Introduction
- § 6:20 —The stop
- § 6:21 —Initial contact
- § 6:22 —Field sobriety testing
- § 6:23 —The Americans With Disabilities Act
- § 6:24 —Litigation under the ADA
- § 6:25 —Selected cases
- § 6:26 Consent

CHAPTER 7. FIELD SOBRIETY TESTING

- § 7:1 Constitutional basis—Fifth amendment
- § 7:2 —Fourth amendment
- § 7:3 Conditions producing physiological symptoms similar to alcohol

- § 7:4 Types of field sobriety tests—Initial examination
- § 7:5 Standardized sobriety tests
- § 7:6 The romberg balance
- § 7:7 The walk and turn
- § 7:8 Finger to nose
- § 7:9 One leg stand
- § 7:10 Horizontal gaze nystagmus
- § 7:11 Vertical Gaze Nystagmus
- § 7:12 Requirement of a foundation for admission
- § 7:13 Use of horizontal gaze nystagmus
- § 7:14 Recitation of the ABC's
- § 7:15 Criticism of "standard" sobriety tests
- § 7:16 Strategic considerations—Direct examination
- § 7:17 Cross-examination
- § 7:18 Physical condition reports
- § 7:19 Videotaping sobriety testing—Foundation
- § 7:20 Examination and preservation
- § 7:21 —Constitutional issues
- § 7:22 Audibility
- § 7:23 Visual quality
- § 7:24 Video tactics
- § 7:25 DOs and DON'Ts for defense counsel
- § 7:26 DOs and DON'Ts for prosecutors
- § 7:27 Preliminary breath screening
- § 7:28 Use at trial
- § 7:29 Use at pre-trial hearings
- § 7:30 Right to a preliminary breath test
- § 7:31 Varieties of screening breath testers
- § 7:32 —Chemical reagent PBTs
- § 7:33 Electromechanical PBTs
- § 7:34 Uses and abuses of screening breath testers

CHAPTER 8. IMPLIED CONSENT

- § 8:1 Introduction
- § 8:2 The pre-implied consent era
- § 8:3 The genesis of implied consent
- § 8:4 Fourth Amendment challenges—Breithaupt, Schmerber and McNeely
- § 8:5 —Birchfield v. North Dakota
- § 8:6 Cases under Birchfield
- § 8:7 Retroactivity of McNeely
- § 8:8 Post McNeely decisions
- § 8:9 Mitchell v. Wisconsin
- § 8:10 Fifth Amendment challenges—Self-incrimination
- § 8:11 —Double jeopardy
- § 8:12 Sixth Amendment challenges—Right to counsel
- § 8:13 —Due process
- § 8:14 —Equal protection

§ 8:16	Sample implied consent statute
§ 8:17	Prerequisites of implied consent
§ 8:18	—Who may order the test
§ 8:19	—Operation
§ 8:20	—Timing of the test
§ 8:21	—Need for an arrest
§ 8:22	Exigent circumstances
§ 8:23	Prerequisites of implied consent—Who may draw the sample
§ 8:24	—Implied consent warnings—Language
§ 8:25	Sample preservation
§ 8:26	—Juveniles
§ 8:27	Independent test
§ 8:28	Refusal and/or rescission of implied consent
§ 8:29	What is a refusal?
§ 8:30	Consequences of a refusal
§ 8:31	Implied consent test evidence
§ 8:32	Implied consent under McNeely

CHAPTER 9. CHEMICAL TEST SUBMISSION AND INDEPENDENT TESTS

§ 9:1	General principles
§ 9:2	South Dakota v Neville
§ 9:3	Right to counsel
§ 9:4	Choice of test
§ 9:5	Right to a chemical test
§ 9:6	Medical inability to furnish sample
§ 9:7	—Emphysema or chronic lung diseases
§ 9:8	—Urine
§ 9:9	—Burden of proof
§ 9:10	Motorist's right to an independent test
§ 9:11	Requiring submission to a second test
§ 9:12	Required warnings
§ 9:13	—The “confusion doctrine”
§ 9:14	Refusal warnings—Obstreperous behavior
§ 9:15	Language and hearing barriers
§ 9:16	Unconscious defendant
§ 9:17	What constitutes a refusal to submit
§ 9:18	Recanted refusals

§ 9:21	Admissibility at trial of reason for refusal
§ 9:22	Admissibility of independent test result when offered by the state
§ 9:23	Admissibility of evidence of refusal
§ 9:24	Court ordered testing

- § 9:25 Admissibility of test results where test made for medical purposes

PART III. CHEMICAL TESTING— GENERALLY

CHAPTER 10. ABSORPTION AND ELIMINATION OF ALCOHOL

- § 10:1 Basic principles
- § 10:2 Absorption of alcohol through gastrointestinal tract
- § 10:3 Absorption from bladder, skin, and external sources
- § 10:4 Endogenous alcohol
- § 10:5 Distribution
- § 10:6 Elimination—General principles
- § 10:7 —Metabolism
- § 10:8 —Excretion
- § 10:9 Sex and age differences in absorption, distribution and elimination
- § 10:10 Clearance rates
- § 10:11 Significance of clearance rates to guilt
- § 10:12 Blood alcohol calculations
- § 10:13 Pitfalls involved in using retrograde extrapolation
- § 10:14 Admissibility of retrograde extrapolation

CHAPTER 11. THE REPORTED EFFECTS OF ALCOHOL

- § 11:1 General principles
- § 11:2 Effects on the body and the brain
- § 11:3 Alcohol and crash risk
- § 11:4 Epidemiologic studies
- § 11:5 Behavioral studies

CHAPTER 12. BLOOD TESTING

- § 12:1 Necessity for chemical testing
- § 12:2 Testing methods
- § 12:3 Blood testing—Basic principles
- § 12:4 Withdrawing blood
- § 12:5 Site cleansing
- § 12:6 Plasma vs. whole blood
- § 12:7 Preservatives
- § 12:8 Storage temperature
- § 12:9 Oxidation
- § 12:10 Effect of preservatives
- § 12:11 Clotting
- § 12:12 Direct analysis of blood—General principles
- § 12:13 Methods of analysis—Introduction

TABLE OF CONTENTS

- § 12:14 Gas chromatography
- § 12:15 Headspace analysis
- § 12:16 Automated methods
- § 12:17 Traditional (wet chemistry) methods
- § 12:18 Testing facilities and their methods
- § 12:19 Compliance with rules and regulations
- § 12:20 Practice considerations

CHAPTER 13. GENERAL PRINCIPLES OF BREATH TESTING

- § 13:1 Introduction
- § 13:2 Qualified products list
- § 13:3 The basic assumption; Obedience to Henry's Law
- § 13:4 Difficulties with the blood/Breath partition ratio—
Generally
- § 13:5 —Hematocrit levels
- § 13:6 —Temperature variations
- § 13:7 Measurement during the absorptive phase
- § 13:8 Judicial interpretation of partition ratio variations—The Nebraska approach: Bjorsen, Burling and Babcock
- § 13:9 Jural instructions: McCarty and McDonald
- § 13:10 Breath alcohol statutes
- § 13:11 The New Jersey analysis: State v Downie
- § 13:12 Criticism of the Downie / Dubowski Approach
- § 13:13 Selected cases—Admissibility of evidence contesting reliability
- § 13:14 Challenging the blood/Breath partition ratio
- § 13:15 Challenges based upon the presumptive nature of the ratio
- § 13:16 Challenges based upon an inability to cross-examine
- § 13:17 Rational relationship of the blood/Breath partition ratio
- § 13:18 Challenges based upon differences in race and sex
- § 13:19 Accuracy of breath testing as compared to direct blood tests
- § 13:20 Sources of error
- § 13:21 Operator error
- § 13:22 Vapor inhalation
- § 13:23 Deviations from normal body temperature
- § 13:24 Variations in the cellular composition of blood
- § 13:25 Changes in barometric pressure
- § 13:26 Physical exercise and hyperventilation
- § 13:27 Loss of alcohol from condensation of water vapor
- § 13:28 Calibration—The simulator
- § 13:29 Simulators—Reported problems

CHAPTER 14. COMMONLY ENCOUNTERED INTERFERANTS

- § 14:1 Radio frequency interference
- § 14:2 Discovery of the problem

- § 14:3 Testing protocols
- § 14:4 Extent of the RFI problem
- § 14:5 Revisiting the RFI debate
- § 14:6 Identifying and avoiding RFI
- § 14:7 Strategies for prosecution and defense
- § 14:8 Legal implications of the RFI problem
- § 14:9 Acetone
- § 14:10 Acetaldehyde
- § 14:11 Mouth alcohol
- § 14:12 —The observation period
- § 14:13 Gastroesophageal Reflux Disease (GERD)

PART IV. SPECIFIC BREATH TESTING EQUIPMENT

CHAPTER 15. THE BREATHALYZER® AND THE PHOTO-INTOXIMETER®

- § 15:1 Photometric testing—Generally
- § 15:2 The breathalyzer
- § 15:3 The breath collection system
- § 15:4 The chemical reaction system
- § 15:5 Catalyst
- § 15:6 The photometric system
- § 15:7 Test administration
- § 15:8 The operator's checklist
- § 15:9 Possible sources of error
- § 15:10 Sources of error—Ampoules
- § 15:11 —Glass quality
- § 15:12 —Bubbler tube errors
- § 15:13 —Non-specificity
- § 15:14 —Random sampling
- § 15:15 —Operator falsification
- § 15:16 —Valve leakage
- § 15:17 —Radio frequency interference
- § 15:18 —Too much sample in the chamber
- § 15:19 —Mechanical malfunctions
- § 15:20 —Operator error
- § 15:21 —Destructive nature of test
- § 15:22 —Observation period
- § 15:23 Solvents in room air
- § 15:24 The breathalyzer models 1000 and 1100
- § 15:25 Possible sources of error
- § 15:26 Legal recognition—General principles
- § 15:27 Selected cases
- § 15:28 Other photoelectric devices—The Photo-electric intoximeter
- § 15:29 Legal recognition

CHAPTER 16. INFRARED ABSORPTION INSTRUMENTS—THE INTOXILYZER®

- § 16:1 Infrared absorption, generally
- § 16:2 The intoxilyzer—Generally
- § 16:3 Specific intoxilyzers—The omicron intoxilyzer (Model 4011)
- § 16:4 Operation
- § 16:5 Beam attenuator
- § 16:6 Possible sources of error—Blood/Breath partition ratio
- § 16:7 —Lack of internal reference
- § 16:8 —Lack of specificity
- § 16:9 Radio frequency interference and stability
- § 16:10 Model 4011A
- § 16:11 Intoxilyzer 4011AS and 4011AS-A
- § 16:12 Possible sources of error
- § 16:13 Operation
- § 16:14 Intoxilyzer Model 5000
- § 16:15 Sample quality
- § 16:16 Basic operation
- § 16:17 Sources of error—Specificity
- § 16:18 —Sample size
- § 16:19 —Radio frequency interference
- § 16:20 —Linearity
- § 16:21 —Software
- § 16:22 —The Intoxilyzer 5000/568G
- § 16:23 —Other reports of errorz
- § 16:24 —Susceptibility to solvents
- § 16:25 Selected cases
- § 16:26 The Intoxilyzer 8000
- § 16:27 Source codes

CHAPTER 17. OTHER INFRARED DEVICES—THE BAC VERIFIER®, THE DATAMASTER® AND THE INTOXIMETER® 3000

- § 17:1 The BAC verifier®
- § 17:2 Possible sources of error—Software
- § 17:3 Radio frequency interference
- § 17:4 The DataMaster® and DataMaster II®
- § 17:5 The DataMaster DMT
- § 17:6 Selected cases
- § 17:7 The Intoximeter® 3000
- § 17:8 Specificity; Acetone
- § 17:9 The taguchi cell
- § 17:10 Operation
- § 17:11 Sources of error
- § 17:12 Practice considerations
- § 17:13 Selected cases
- § 17:14 The AlcoTest 7110 MKII

- § 17:15 —Reliability and sources of error
- § 17:16 The AlcoTest 9510
- § 17:17 Revised three test battery
- § 17:18 Source code litigation
- § 17:19 —Source code anomalies rejected by New Jersey court

CHAPTER 18. GAS CHROMATOGRAPH INSTRUMENTS

- § 18:1 General principles
- § 18:2 Particular chromatographs
- § 18:3 Sources of error
- § 18:4 Selected cases
