

Table of Contents

Volume 1

CHAPTER 1. DISTINCTIVE NEEDS OF CLOSELY HELD BUSINESSES

A. INTRODUCTION

§ 1:1 Scope of chapter and treatise

B. DEFINITIONS AND VARIATIONS

§ 1:2 Closely held

§ 1:3 Close corporations

§ 1:4 Close corporations distinguished from “closed” and “closely held” corporations and “statutory close corporations”

§ 1:5 S corporations

§ 1:6 One-person and family entities

§ 1:7 Subsidiary corporations

§ 1:8 Joint venture corporations

§ 1:9 Limited liability companies (LLCs)

§ 1:10 Relative use of the close corporation and LLC forms; overlap in legal treatment

§ 1:11 Legal rules and the relationship between closely held entities and public corporations

§ 1:12 Not for profit corporations

C. TYPICAL ATTRIBUTES OF CLOSELY HELD ENTITIES

§ 1:13 Typical business situations giving rise to closely held entities

§ 1:14 Usual attributes of close corporations and LLCs

§ 1:15 Characteristics of traditional corporate and partnership forms advantageous and disadvantageous in a closely held enterprise

D. CHARACTERISTICS TRACKING THE TRADITIONAL CORPORATION—SEPARATE
JURIDICAL EXISTENCES AND LIMITED LIABILITY

- § 1:16 Separate juridical existence
- § 1:17 Limited liability
- § 1:18 Disregarding separate personality of closely held entities
- § 1:19 —The importance of examining the particular setting
- § 1:20 —In parent-subsidary settings
- § 1:21 —Officer, director and manager liability for wrongful action taken in entity capacity
- § 1:22 —In LLCs
- § 1:23 Taxation
- § 1:24 Constitutional issues and underlying concepts of corporate personality

E. ADAPTING TO THE PARTICULAR NEEDS OF CLOSELY HELD ENTITIES: LEGISLATIVE AND JUDICIAL REFORMS

- § 1:25 Evolution of corporations statutes to fit the different needs of the close corporation
- § 1:26 Statutory close corporation supplements
- § 1:27 Number of close corporations electing statutory close corporation status
- § 1:28 Wide recognition of contracting in closely held entities
- § 1:29 Statutory limits to entity permanence and providing remedies for dissension
- § 1:30 Fiduciary duty law recognizing distinctive needs of closely held enterprises
- § 1:31 Addressing distinctive needs of closely held entities—Entity formalities

F. THE NEED FOR PLANNING AND CONTRACTING IN CLOSELY HELD ENTITIES

- § 1:32 Modifying usual corporate or LLC attributes—Free transferability of shares or LLC interests
- § 1:33 Key areas for contracting to modify usual

TABLE OF CONTENTS

corporate or LLC rules—Centralized control held by majority

G. GENERAL

- § 1:34 Different law for closely held entities—Some criticisms and suggestions
- § 1:35 Specialized resources for closely held entities

CHAPTER 2. ORGANIZING THE CLOSELY HELD BUSINESS

- § 2:1 Scope of chapter
- § 2:2 Lawyer's representation of more than one participant in a closely held enterprise
- § 2:3 Corporation, LLC or other business organization
- § 2:4 Deciding whether to incorporate: Nontax considerations
- § 2:5 Deciding whether to incorporate: Tax considerations
- § 2:6 Corporation taxed as partnership: S corporation
- § 2:7 Limited liability companies
- § 2:8 Limited liability partnerships
- § 2:9 Professionals and the choice of business form
- § 2:10 Statutory close corporation as choice of business form
- § 2:11 "Section 1244 stock" and choice of business form
- § 2:12 Determining number of business units to use in organizing
- § 2:13 Selecting state of incorporation or organization
- § 2:14 Choosing name
- § 2:15 Financing and capitalization
- § 2:16 Advantages of low equity capitalization
- § 2:17 Dangers in low equity capitalization
- § 2:18 Planning that keeps equity low
- § 2:19 Applicability of federal and state securities laws
- § 2:20 Deciding on the number of classes of stock
- § 2:21 Possible uses of preferred stock
- § 2:22 Initial contributions to entity
- § 2:23 Getting assets into the business with the best tax result: Tax-free incorporation
- § 2:24 Possible disadvantages of tax-free incorporation
- § 2:25 Avoiding personal holding company status
- § 2:26 Choice of time to incorporate; selecting taxable year for corporation

- § 2:27 Anticipating difficulties that may arise on death of shareholder
- § 2:28 Need for a preincorporation agreement

CHAPTER 3. MOLDING THE BUSINESS FORM: THE INTERACTION OF STATUTES, ORGANIZATIONAL DOCUMENTS, AND CONTRACTS

A. GENERAL CONSIDERATIONS

- § 3:1 Scope of chapter
- § 3:2 The operative documents
- § 3:3 Recurring closely held settings generating a need for adaptation
- § 3:4 Navigating the relationship between statutes/ common law rules and private ordering
- § 3:5 Failure to utilize freedom to shape the business form
- § 3:6 Recurring drafting considerations

B. ASSURING INDIVIDUAL PARTICIPATION ON A MANAGING BOARD

- § 3:7 Differing ways of assuring minority representation
- § 3:8 Clauses requiring cumulative voting
- § 3:9 Class voting for directors; use of classes to permit staggered terms
- § 3:10 Clauses designating directors
- § 3:11 Precautions to observe in setting up class voting
- § 3:12 Limitations on voting power
- § 3:13 Nonvoting stock and stock with limited voting power
- § 3:14 Examples of advantageous use of nonvoting stock
- § 3:15 Caution to observe in using nonvoting stock
- § 3:16 Shares with multiple votes

C. PROVIDING A VETO OF MANAGEMENT DECISIONS

- § 3:17 Veto provisions
- § 3:18 Abolishing the board

TABLE OF CONTENTS

- § 3:19 Dividend policy
- § 3:20 Empowering removal of directors
- § 3:21 Personal clauses

D. CLAUSES DESIGNATING FINANCIAL RIGHTS

- § 3:22 Clauses for different financial returns
- § 3:23 Designating each class of stock by set name
- § 3:24 Ways of grouping stock clauses
- § 3:25 Giving content to term “preferred stock”
- § 3:26 Stating dividend preferences
- § 3:27 “Participating” preferred
- § 3:28 Cumulative and noncumulative dividends
- § 3:29 Stating liquidation preferences
- § 3:30 Making preferred “callable”
- § 3:31 Provision for sinking funds
- § 3:32 Shares with conversion rights and share warrants
- § 3:33 Voting rights of preferred
- § 3:34 Protecting preferred shareholders

E. RECURRING CLAUSES USEFUL IN THE CLOSELY HELD FIRM

- § 3:35 Scope of subsection
- § 3:36 Preemptive rights
- § 3:37 Restricting transferability
- § 3:38 Buyouts
- § 3:39 Informal operations
- § 3:40 Right to inspect
- § 3:41 Validating act of interested directors
- § 3:42 Exculpation for directors or managers
- § 3:43 Indemnification

F. PREPARING THE BYLAWS

- § 3:44 Status of bylaws
- § 3:45 Function of bylaws
- § 3:46 Special considerations in drafting bylaws for close corporations
- § 3:47 Latitude permitted by statutes
- § 3:48 Traditional content of bylaws

G. PRECAUTIONS THAT INCREASE EFFECTIVENESS OF PROVISIONS IN THE ARTICLES AND BYLAWS

- § 3:49 Obtaining unanimous consent to unusual provisions
- § 3:50 Protecting articles and bylaw provisions against repeal or circumvention
- § 3:51 Deciding whether to place provisions in articles, in bylaws, or in an agreement or some other instrument
- § 3:52 Reference on share certificates to unusual clauses in articles or bylaws

CHAPTER 4. CONTRACTING AS TO CONTROL AND GOVERNANCE IN CLOSE CORPORATIONS

A. INTRODUCTION

- § 4:1 Scope of chapter
- § 4:2 Business need for control arrangements
- § 4:3 Scope of control arrangements and variations in business need
- § 4:4 Grounds on which early decisions invalidated shareholder agreements
- § 4:5 Modern statutes affecting validity of shareholders' agreements

B. SHAREHOLDER CONTROL AGREEMENTS ON MATTERS TRADITIONALLY WITHIN DIRECTORS' REALM

- § 4:6 Agreements which limit powers of directors or tend to influence their decisions
- § 4:7 Agreements designating corporate officers and determining their compensation and tenure
- § 4:8 Agreements controlling dividend policy or providing for distribution of corporate assets or profits
- § 4:9 Agreements providing veto arrangements
- § 4:10 Agreements governing dispute resolution including dissolution
- § 4:11 Buy-sell agreements and those restricting share transfer

TABLE OF CONTENTS

C. SHAREHOLDERS' AGREEMENTS ON MATTERS TRADITIONALLY WITHIN SHAREHOLDER DOMAIN

- § 4:12 Shareholders' agreements to pool votes for directors
- § 4:13 Pooling agreements to create or preserve a control block
- § 4:14 Agreements giving voting power disproportionate to shareholdings
- § 4:15 Shareholder's undertaking to vote in specified way in consideration of private benefit
- § 4:16 Agreements containing irrevocable proxies
- § 4:17 Voting trusts
- § 4:18 Precautions to observe in drafting voting trust agreements

D. VETO PROVISIONS

- § 4:19 Business need for veto powers
- § 4:20 Methods of providing a veto
- § 4:21 Veto of shareholder action—Matters on which shareholders participate
- § 4:22 Veto of shareholder action by supermajority vote requirements
- § 4:23 Veto of shareholder action by shares with weighted votes
- § 4:24 Veto of shareholder action by supermajority quorum requirements
- § 4:25 Veto of shareholder action: Limitations on action by written consent
- § 4:26 Veto of director action: Matters on which board acts; assuring shareholders of representation on board
- § 4:27 Methods of providing a veto over board action
- § 4:28 Veto of action by executive and other board committees
- § 4:29 Veto of officer action
- § 4:30 Precautions to observe in drafting a veto arrangement
- § 4:31 Guarding against repeal or circumvention of veto provisions

E. IMPLEMENTATION AND INTERPRETATION

- § 4:32 Respective advantages and disadvantages of

- shareholders' agreements, voting trusts, irrevocable proxies and veto provisions
- § 4:33 Implementation—Placement in charter, bylaws or shareholders' agreement
- § 4:34 —Enactment by all or only some shareholders
- § 4:35 Notice to other shareholders or purchasers of shares; assuring that transferees of shares will be informed of shareholders' agreement and will be bound by it
- § 4:36 Effect of voting trust statute or other agreements on validity of other control agreements
- § 4:37 Length of time shareholders' agreement or voting trust to remain in effect as factor affecting its validity
- § 4:38 Severability of illegal parts of shareholders' agreements
- § 4:39 Desirability of reducing shareholders' agreements to writing
- § 4:40 Desirability of causing corporation to become party to shareholders' agreement
- § 4:41 Conflict of laws rule governing validity of shareholders' agreements and voting trusts
- § 4:42 Remedies available for breach of valid agreement
- § 4:43 Summary of precautions to observe in drafting shareholders' agreements

F. OTHER TYPES OF CONTROL ARRANGEMENTS

- § 4:44 Testamentary directions on voting of shares
- § 4:45 Management agreements and other corporate contracts delegating control
- § 4:46 Control arrangements utilizing holding company, partnership, or jointly owned stock

CHAPTER 5. CONTRACTING AS TO CONTROL, GOVERNANCE, AND EXIT IN LLCS

A. INTRODUCTION: ROLE OF CONTRACTS IN LLCS

- § 5:1 Scope of chapter
- § 5:2 Business and legal needs for operating agreements and other contracts in LLCs

TABLE OF CONTENTS

- § 5:3 Relationship of contract to governance provided by statutes or common law courts
- § 5:4 Form of agreements and those who are bound by it
- § 5:5 Amendments to operating agreement

B. AGREEMENTS RELATED TO FINANCE AND MEMBERSHIP

- § 5:6 Contributions and capital calls
- § 5:7 Distributions
- § 5:8 Membership
- § 5:9 Assignments of membership
- § 5:10 Transfers via a buy/sell agreement

C. AGREEMENTS RELATING TO GOVERNANCE

- § 5:11 Governance by members
- § 5:12 Governance by managers
- § 5:13 Agreements as to naming and removing members, managers, or officers
- § 5:14 Control over litigation

D. CONTRACTING AS TO FIDUCIARY DUTY AND INVOLUNTARY DISSOLUTION

- § 5:15 Fiduciary duties in LLCs
- § 5:16 Contracts to limit or exclude fiduciary duties in LLCs
- § 5:17 Contract provisions giving rise to enhanced fiduciary duty
- § 5:18 Statutory member suits for involuntary dissolution; contracts to eliminate or limit or otherwise affect statutory rights
- § 5:19 Contracts affecting other shareholder remedies

E. CONTRACTS RELATING TO DISSOCIATION, WITHDRAWAL, EXPULSION

- § 5:20 Different ways for a member to separate from LLC
- § 5:21 Withdrawal by action of a member
- § 5:22 Member's death
- § 5:23 Divorce
- § 5:24 Bankruptcy of a member

- § 5:25 Filing of dissolution actions
- § 5:26 Termination of a member's employment
- § 5:27 Expulsion
- § 5:28 Payment terms in an operating agreement
- § 5:29 Winding up; distribution of assets
- § 5:30 Mergers

CHAPTER 6. PROTECTING THE TENURE AND STATUS OF SHAREHOLDER-EMPLOYEES AND KEY PERSONNEL

- § 6:1 Scope of chapter
- § 6:2 Need for tenure and security of status
- § 6:3 Procedure to fix compensation of shareholder-director-officers
- § 6:4 Forms of compensation
- § 6:5 Shareholder challenges to compensation
- § 6:6 Amount of executive compensation deductible for income tax purposes
- § 6:7 Corporate payments to survivors of deceased executives: Legality and tax treatment
- § 6:8 Protecting compensation in LLCs
- § 6:9 Devices useful in giving an employee tenure and status
- § 6:10 Usefulness of term employment contract with corporation in providing security for key employees
- § 6:11 Validity of employment contract extending beyond term of board of directors
- § 6:12 Necessity of clear authorization to bind corporation to long-term employment
- § 6:13 Effect on lifetime employment contracts of various statutes, particularly those authorizing directors to remove corporate officers and employees
- § 6:14 Effect of bylaws on possible removal of employees
- § 6:15 What an employment agreement should contain
- § 6:16 Reasons for reducing employment agreements to writing
- § 6:17 Precautions that may strengthen an employment agreement
- § 6:18 Shareholders' agreements; combinations of

TABLE OF CONTENTS

- shareholders' agreements and employment contracts
- § 6:19 Giving an employee voting control or creating a voting trust
- § 6:20 Use of irrevocable proxy to protect employment
- § 6:21 Charter or bylaw provisions requiring unanimity or a high vote to discharge employee or change compensation

CHAPTER 7. AGREEMENTS RELATING TO EXIT: TRANSFER RESTRICTIONS AND BUYOUT ARRANGEMENTS

A. INTRODUCTION

- § 7:1 Scope of chapter
- § 7:2 Why transfer restrictions may be needed
- § 7:3 Why buyout agreements may be needed
- § 7:4 Kinds of exit restrictions
- § 7:5 General suggestions on the planning and drafting of restrictions and buyouts

B. VALIDITY AND ENFORCEABILITY

- § 7:6 Statutes authorizing transfer restrictions in closely held corporations and LLCs
- § 7:7 Factors courts consider in determining validity of restrictions
- § 7:8 Contracts and property law principles used in interpreting transfer restrictions
- § 7:9 Choice of law
- § 7:10 Necessity of placing restrictions on share certificates or otherwise giving notice
- § 7:11 Effect of stock transfer restrictions on nonconsenting shareholders
- § 7:12 Fiduciary duty as a limit on transfer restrictions and buyout agreements
- § 7:13 Federal securities laws—Challenges to transfer restrictions and buyout agreements based on fraud
- § 7:14 Challenges to transfer restrictions and buyout agreements based on other laws
- § 7:15 Enforcement of restrictions and agreements
- § 7:16 Waiver of restrictions or agreements

C. APPLICATION IN SPECIFIC CONTEXTS

- § 7:17 Consent restraints and similar restrictions
- § 7:18 First option and similar restraints
- § 7:19 Mandatory buyouts or redemptions
- § 7:20 Purchase is by the corporation or LLC—Special rules
- § 7:21 Application of transfer restrictions to testamentary transfers
- § 7:22 Application of transfer restrictions to existing owners or to family members
- § 7:23 Application of restrictions to transfers in divorce
- § 7:24 Application of transfer restrictions to pledges of corporate stock or LLC interests and other creditor transactions
- § 7:25 Application to shareholder petition for involuntary dissolution, relief for oppression or appraisal
- § 7:26 Application to mergers of a party to a transfer restriction
- § 7:27 Majority efforts to avoid restrictions via mergers, sale of assets, dissolution or amendment to charter or bylaws
- § 7:28 Majority actions seeking to remove or waive restrictions—Who speaks for the entity in declining to purchase?

D. VALUATION

- § 7:29 Setting transfer price of shares or other ownership interests—General discussion
- § 7:30 —Use of book value
- § 7:31 Setting transfer price of shares or other ownership interests—Mutual agreement on price
- § 7:32 Setting transfer price of shares or other ownership interests—Market or best-offer price
- § 7:33 —Capitalizing earnings
- § 7:34 —Appraisal
- § 7:35 —Miscellaneous methods
- § 7:36 —Combinations of valuation methods

E. DRAFTING AND IMPLEMENTATION

- § 7:37 Instruments in which restrictive provisions should be placed

TABLE OF CONTENTS

- § 7:38 Desirable parties to a restrictive stock agreement
- § 7:39 Giving option to corporation rather than to other shareholders
- § 7:40 Use of successive options, options coupled with obligations to purchase, or successive obligations to purchase
- § 7:41 Combining first options and buyout arrangements; protecting the estate of a deceased shareholder
- § 7:42 Combining first options, buyouts or both with special dissolution arrangements
- § 7:43 Necessity for detailed coverage in drafting first options and other restrictive provisions
- § 7:44 Fixing time limits within which options can be exercised
- § 7:45 Drafting provisions to prevent removal by unilateral majority action
- § 7:46 Providing for payment of transfer price (including use of life insurance)
- § 7:47 Inclusion of life insurance in valuation of deceased's interest in the business
- § 7:48 Desirability of a disability buyout
- § 7:49 Corporate, business and income tax considerations involved in choice between shareholder cross-purchase agreement and corporation stock-purchase agreement
- § 7:50 Estate and gift tax consequences of transfer restrictions and buyout arrangements
- § 7:51 Outline and checklist for stock-purchase agreement funded with insurance

Volume 2

CHAPTER 8. LIMITED LIABILITY AND ENTITY SEPARATENESS

A. INTRODUCTION

- § 8:1 Scope of chapter
- § 8:2 Disregard of entity ritual and neglect of paperwork in closely held entities

B. WHO SPEAKS FOR THE ENTITY?

- § 8:3 Legal requirements in a corporation for formal and informal director and shareholder action

- § 8:4 Legal requirements for formal and informal action:
LLCs
- § 8:5 Authority of corporate officers
- § 8:6 Officer authority in intracorporate disputes
- § 8:7 Agency authority in a limited liability company
- § 8:8 Ultra vires

C. PERSONAL LIABILITY OF ENTITY PARTICIPANTS

- § 8:9 Failure to disclose corporate principal or to properly specify corporate capacity
- § 8:10 Personal liability for failure to disclose principal:
LLC cases
- § 8:11 Liability for corporations not yet formed
- § 8:12 Liability for defective incorporation
- § 8:13 Liability for entities not yet formed or defectively formed: LLC cases
- § 8:14 Personal liability for dissolved corporations
- § 8:15 Personal liability for dissolved LLC
- § 8:16 Corporate distributions
- § 8:17 Individual liability for LLC distributions
- § 8:18 Piercing the veil
- § 8:19 Empirical data illuminating when piercing occurs
- § 8:20 Piercing the veil in contract settings
- § 8:21 Piercing the veil in tort settings
- § 8:22 Piercing the veil using statutes and in other regulatory settings
- § 8:23 Piercing the veil in parent-subsidary settings
- § 8:24 Procedural issues in piercing
- § 8:25 Other legal bases for disregarding an entity's separateness
- § 8:26 Personal liability for tortious or other wrongful action taken in the entity name
- § 8:27 Entity separateness in LLCs: Statutes
- § 8:28 Piercing the veil in LLCs
- § 8:29 Piercing the LLC veil in specific substantive contexts
- § 8:30 Piercing LLCs: Procedure; Use of other laws
- § 8:31 Individual direct liability for wrongful acts taken in LLCs
- § 8:32 Precautions that strengthen the shield of limited liability

TABLE OF CONTENTS

CHAPTER 9. PROBLEMS OF DISSENSION, DEADLOCK, AND DISSOLUTION

A. CHARACTERISTICS OF CLOSE CORPORATIONS AND LLCs THAT GIVE RISE TO DISSENSION AND OPPRESSION

- § 9:1 Scope of chapter
- § 9:2 Problems of dissension, oppression, and deadlock
- § 9:3 Squeeze-out of minority owners
- § 9:4 Responding to distinctive needs of closely held business

B. STATUTORY AUTHORIZATION OF JUDICIAL PATH TO BUYOUT REMEDY IN CLOSELY HELD CORPORATION

- § 9:5 Involuntary dissolution statutes and alternative remedies
- § 9:6 Relief based on oppression or similar conduct
- § 9:7 Meaning of oppression or similar grounds for relief
- § 9:8 Reasonable expectations as a basis for relief
- § 9:9 Remedies: judicially ordered buyouts
- § 9:10 Remedies: buyout at request of corporation or another shareholder
- § 9:11 Remedies: valuation and procedure in buyouts
- § 9:12 Remedies: provisional director
- § 9:13 Remedies: custodian
- § 9:14 Remedies: appointment of a receiver
- § 9:15 Remedies: judicial ordering of other corporate action
- § 9:16 Dissolution-on-deadlock statutes
- § 9:17 Statutory close corporation provisions
- § 9:18 Relationship of statutory remedies with each other and with equitable remedies
- § 9:19 Effect of shareholders' agreements on statutory and judicial remedies; effect of mergers or other fundamental changes on judicial remedies
- § 9:20 Dissolution in a not-for-profit corporation

C. COMMON LAW RELIEF FOR CORPORATE DISSENSION

- § 9:21 Traditional use of fiduciary duty
- § 9:22 Compelling declaration of dividends
- § 9:23 Enhanced fiduciary duties
- § 9:24 Litigation based on fiduciary duties
- § 9:25 Derivative suits
- § 9:26 Procedural characteristics of derivative suits:
demand requirements
- § 9:27 Derivative suits: other procedural requirements
- § 9:28 Direct suits for fiduciary duty claims
- § 9:29 Individual recovery in derivative suits
- § 9:30 Claims to reach other defendants

D. STATUTES AUTHORIZING JUDICIAL PROVISION FOR MINORITY EXIT IN LLCs

- § 9:31 LLC characteristics that give rise to possible dissension problems
- § 9:32 Statutory provisions providing exit
- § 9:33 Dissolution based on oppression or similar language
- § 9:34 Meaning of oppression or similar grounds for
relief
- § 9:35 Remedies: buyout
- § 9:36 Valuation
- § 9:37 Dissolution where not reasonably practicable
- § 9:38 Deadlock; other grounds for involuntary
dissolution
- § 9:39 Contracts to limit or exclude right to seek
dissolution
- § 9:40 Effect of operating and other agreements on statutory and judicial remedies

E. THE ROLE OF FIDUCIARY DUTY AND JUDICIAL REMEDIES IN LLCs

- § 9:41 Fiduciary duty
- § 9:42 Fiduciary duty in specific settings: opportunity;
competition
- § 9:43 Fiduciary duty in specific settings: duty to disclose
- § 9:44 Fiduciary duty in specific settings: duty of care

TABLE OF CONTENTS

- § 9:45 Fiduciary duty: procedural questions
- § 9:46 Contracts to limit or exclude fiduciary duties in LLCs
- § 9:47 Enhanced fiduciary duty in LLCs; Contract provisions giving rise to enhanced fiduciary duty
- § 9:48 Suits for breach of fiduciary duties: direct suits in LLCs
- § 9:49 Derivative suits in LLCs
- § 9:50 Derivative suits in LLCs: procedural requirements

F. FIDUCIARY DUTY AND RELATED ACTIONS IN PROVIDING REMEDIES SHORT OF EXIT

- § 9:51 Kinds of provisions that may be useful
- § 9:52 Implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing
- § 9:53 Member remedies: inspection and accounting
- § 9:54 Indemnification and advancement of expenses
- § 9:55 Disclosure duties under federal and state law
- § 9:56 Insider trading in closely held enterprise
- § 9:57 Alternative dispute approaches: arbitration or mediation
- § 9:58 Arbitration procedures and processes

CHAPTER 10. SPECIMEN PROVISIONS FOR CHARTERS, BYLAWS, SHAREHOLDERS' AGREEMENTS AND OTHER DOCUMENTS

- § 10:1 Scope of chapter
- § 10:2 Forms versus individualized drafting

A. CHARTERS AND CHARTER CLAUSES

- § 10:3 Skeleton charter
- § 10:4 —Professional corporation (including certain required certifications)
- § 10:5 Setting up both common and preferred shares and providing special protection for preferred
- § 10:6 Giving preferred shares right to vote on default in dividends
- § 10:7 Denying preemptive rights
- § 10:8 Creating preemptive rights
- § 10:9 Setting up two classes of common with equal

- rights (except that each class elects specified number of directors) and giving each class veto over shareholder action
- § 10:10 Setting up multiple classes of stock without destroying corporation's eligibility to elect subchapter S tax status
- § 10:11 Setting up multiple classes of stock, including class with no proprietary rights, but with power to elect deadlock-breaking director
- § 10:12 Providing for election of majority of directors by Class A stock and of minority by Class B
- § 10:13 Classifying directors, providing for election of each class of directors by a class of shareholders, and giving each class of shareholders power to name particular officers
- § 10:14 Laying foundation for imposition of restrictions on transfer of stock by shareholders' agreement or bylaw provision
- § 10:15 Imposing restrictions on transfer of voting or common shares
- § 10:16 Restriction on transfer of shares in joint venture corporation
- § 10:17 Placing restrictions on transfer of two classes of common or on transfer of both common and preferred
- § 10:18 Excepting from restrictions a transfer of over fifty percent of shares
- § 10:19 Providing for redemption ("call") of both preferred and common stock
- § 10:20 Providing for surrender of shares to corporation when holder ceases to be actively engaged in service of corporation
- § 10:21 Charter clauses giving each principal shareholder power to veto fundamental corporate changes and issuance of additional stock
- § 10:22 Requiring unanimity for some director action and shareholder approval of other director action
- § 10:23 Requiring high vote for director action
- § 10:24 Providing for cumulative voting for directors
- § 10:25 Providing for directors' compensation based on percentage of profits
- § 10:26 Validating contracts and transactions in which directors have an interest

TABLE OF CONTENTS

- § 10:27 Providing for indemnification of directors
- § 10:28 Requiring declaration and payment of dividends in specified circumstances
- § 10:29 Providing for dividends by classes of stock rather than by shares
- § 10:30 Requiring directors to be shareholders and prohibiting director action while vacancy exists on board
- § 10:31 Permitting directors to vote by proxy
- § 10:32 Empowering shareholders to remove directors without cause
- § 10:33 Setting high quorum requirements or giving added powers and rights to shareholders
- § 10:34 Giving shareholder power to dissolve corporation

B. BYLAWS

- § 10:35 Specimen code of bylaws
- § 10:36 Special bylaw provisions
- § 10:37 Providing for directors' compensation
- § 10:38 Providing for arbitration of board deadlocks
- § 10:39 Provision authorizing long-term employment contracts
- § 10:40 Provision for management of corporation
- § 10:41 Restriction on share transfer—First option in corporation
- § 10:42 —First option in corporation and shareholders successively
- § 10:43 Indemnification of directors, officers and employees
- § 10:44 Fixing record dates for shareholder notice, voting and giving of consents

C. SHAREHOLDER'S AGREEMENTS

- § 10:45 Simple agreement providing for management of corporation and for employment of shareholders and their compensation
- § 10:46 Providing for management, classification of stock, class voting for directors, restrictions on stock transfers, and dissolution on request of holders of half the stock
- § 10:47 Agreement not to compete
- § 10:48 Agreement on subchapter S election
- § 10:49 Agreement for statutory close corporation

- § 10:50 Provision for valuing minority shares
- § 10:51 Specifications on assets to be contributed to corporation, shareholders' power to elect corporate officers, high vote requirements and stock transfer restrictions
- § 10:52 Agreement for a professional corporation
- § 10:53 Reduction of number of directors and setting up equality of control between two shareholders
- § 10:54 Designating directors
- § 10:55 Shareholders' agreement providing for voting of shares for directors, expressing a preference for named persons as officers, requiring written consent of all for transfer of shares, and providing for designated action in event of death of one of the shareholders
- § 10:56 Providing for dissolution of corporation on request of shareholder unless other shareholder buys out interest of dissatisfied shareholder, and providing for employment of shareholder as general manager of corporation

D. BUY-SELL AND STOCK PURCHASE AGREEMENTS

- § 10:57 Buy-sell agreement between two shareholders
- § 10:58 Stock purchase agreements
- § 10:59 Stock purchase agreement for professional corporation
- § 10:60 Stock purchase and first option agreement
- § 10:61 Shareholders' agreement restricting transfer of shares—First option in other shareholders
- § 10:62 Agreement by corporation and its shareholders creating rights of first refusal when shareholder decides to sell or becomes disabled
- § 10:63 Agreement restricting voluntary transfers of stock, arranging for disposition of shares involuntarily transferred, controlling voting of some involuntarily transferred shares, providing for voting of shares of employee-shareholders whose employment is terminated, and designating voting agents to direct voting of certain shares
- § 10:64 Disability buyout agreement
- § 10:65 Amendment of stock redemption agreement to include disability buyout

TABLE OF CONTENTS

E. MISCELLANEOUS AGREEMENTS AND OTHER DOCUMENTS

- § 10:66 Deferred compensation agreement
- § 10:67 Voting trust agreement
- § 10:68 Agreement with creditors
- § 10:69 Long-term employment contract
- § 10:70 Employment agreement for professional corporation
- § 10:71 Letter to clients by attorney representing multiple parties in organizing a corporation
- § 10:72 Shareholders' arbitration agreement

Table of Laws and Rules

Table of Cases

Index