Dedication	iii
Preface and Acknowledgements.....	v
Table of Cases	xxv
Chapter 1 — The Patent System & Procedures for Patenting.....	1
1.1 The Canadian Patent System.....	3
1.1.1 What is a Patent?.....	3
1.1.2 Purposes of the Patent System.....	6
1.1.3 Patent Theory	7
1.1.3.1 Invention Motivation Theory	8
1.1.3.2 Induce Commercialization Theory.....	9
1.1.3.3 Information Disclosure Theory.....	9
1.1.3.4 Exploration Control Theory.....	10
1.1.4 History and Development of the Patent Act	11
1.1.5 Comparison with the U.S. Patent System	13
1.1.5.1 Key Features of the U.S. Patent System.....	13
1.2 The Patent Application	15
1.2.1 Important Dates.....	15
1.2.1.1 Filing Date.....	15
1.2.1.2 Claim Date (Priority Date).....	16
1.2.1.3 Applying Outside of Canada	17
1.2.1.4 Patent Prosecution Highway.....	18
1.2.2 Criteria for Patentability	19
1.2.2.1 Patentable Subject Matter	19
1.2.2.2 Novelty	22
1.2.2.3 Utility	23
1.2.2.4 Inventiveness (Non-Obviousness).....	25
1.2.3 Contents of a Patent Application	28
1.2.3.1 Abstract	28
1.2.3.2 Claims.....	28
1.2.3.3 Description	29
1.2.3.4 Drawings	30
1.3 Filing the Application	30
1.3.1 Filing Date.....	30
1.3.2 Serial Number.....	30
1.3.3 Public Disclosure.....	31
1.4 Examination of Patent Applications	31
1.4.1 Requesting Examination.....	32
1.4.2 Special Order Examination.....	33
1.4.3 Prior Art and Protests.....	33
1.4.4 The Prosecution	34

1.4.4.1	The Role of the Examiner	34
1.4.4.2	Responding to the Office Action	34
1.4.4.3	Appealing a Refusal to Grant a Patent.....	36
1.4.4.4	Amendments to Patents: Re-Examination.....	38
1.4.4.5	Amendments to Patents: Reissue & Disclaimer.....	39
1.4.4.6	Prosecution History Estoppel	40
1.5	Maintenance Fees.....	40
Chapter 2 — Patentable Subject Matter		43
2.1	What is Patentable?.....	44
2.1.1	Statutory Provisions.....	44
2.1.2	“Art”	45
2.1.3	“Process”	45
2.1.4	“Machine”	46
2.1.5	“Manufacture”	46
2.1.6	“Composition of Matter”	46
2.1.7	United States	46
2.2	Examples of “Included” and “Excluded” Subject Matter.....	47
2.2.1	New Uses for Known Compounds and Processes.....	47
2.2.1.1	Canada	47
2.2.1.2	United States	49
2.2.2	Professional Skill and Methods of Medical Treatment.....	49
2.2.2.1	Canada	49
2.2.2.2	United States	62
2.2.3	Life Forms	70
2.2.3.1	Canada	70
2.2.3.2	United States	73
2.2.4	Computer Implemented Inventions and “Business Methods”	76
2.2.4.1	Canada	76
2.2.4.2	United States	83
Chapter 3 — Patent Anticipation (Novelty).....		89
3.1	Introduction	91
3.1.1	What is Meant by Anticipation	91
3.1.2	Presumption of Validity	91
3.1.3	Anticipation as an Invalidity Defence.....	92
3.1.4	High Threshold to Overcome	92
3.1.5	Statutory Defence — Patent Act : Old versus New	93
3.1.5.1	Old Patent Act Anticipation — First to Invent.....	93
3.1.5.1.1	Relevant Provisions.....	94
3.1.5.2	New Patent Act Anticipation — First-to-File System	95
3.1.5.2.1	Relevant Provisions.....	96

3.1.6	General Approach for an Anticipation Analysis	96
3.1.6.1	Must Construe the Claims First	96
3.1.6.2	Question of Fact	97
3.1.6.3	Each Anticipating Disclosure must be Expressly Pleaded	97
3.1.6.4	Single Disclosure — No Mosaicing	97
3.1.6.5	Person Skilled in the Art	99
3.1.7	Anticipation Versus Obviousness.....	99
3.1.7.1	Independent Defences.....	100
3.1.7.2	Order of Dealing with Anticipation and Obviousness	100
3.2	Anticipation under the New Patent Act	101
3.2.1	Enabling Disclosure Test for Anticipation	101
3.2.1.1	Disclosure Requirement	103
3.2.1.2	Enablement Requirement	107
3.2.1.3	Form of Disclosure is Irrelevant.....	110
3.2.1.4	“Available to the Public” — Unrestricted Access	110
3.2.1.5	Prejudices of the Prior Art	113
3.2.2	Prior Publication	114
3.2.2.1	The Unimaginative Person Skilled in the Art.....	114
3.2.2.2	Sufficiency and Enablement.....	115
3.2.2.3	Paper Disclosures	115
3.2.3	Prior Oral Disclosure	116
3.2.4	Prior Use & Prior Sale	118
3.2.4.1	Must Amount to Enabling Disclosure	117
3.2.4.2	Reverse Engineering.....	119
3.2.4.3	Prior Use of a Method Invention or Use of a Product Invention	122
3.2.4.4	The Removal of “Inherency”	124
3.2.4.5	No Exemption for Experimentation	126
3.2.5	Double Patenting	127
3.2.6	Selection Patents	128
3.3	Anticipation under the Old Patent Act	129
3.3.1	Enabling Disclosure Test for Anticipation	130
3.3.2	Prior Invention in Section 27(1)(a)	139
3.3.2.1	Date of Invention.....	131
3.3.2.2	Prior use by “Any Other Person”?	132
3.3.2.3	Making the Invention “Available to the Public”	132
3.3.2.4	Secret or Fortuitous Use	133
3.3.2.5	Sufficiency of “Prior Use” under Section 27 and 61.....	133

3.3.2.5.1	Unsuccessful/Abandoned Experiment.....	133
3.3.2.5.2	Prejudices of the Prior Art	133
3.3.2.5.3	Proof of Prior Use Subject to Close Scrutiny	134
3.3.2.5.4	Critical Date	134
3.3.3	Prior Printed Publication or Patent in Section 27(1)(b).....	135
3.3.3.1	What is a Publication?.....	135
3.3.3.2	“Printed” under Section 27.....	135
3.3.3.3	Date of Interpretation of Prior Art	135
3.3.4	Prior Public Use or Sale in Canada under Section 27(1)(c) ...	136
3.3.4.1	A Good Try, But No Success.....	136
3.3.4.2	Prior Use	136
3.3.4.3	On Sale	137
3.3.4.4	Exemption for Experimentation	137
3.3.5	Prior Corresponding Patent — Section 27(2)	138
3.3.6	Double Patenting or Prior Grant.....	138
3.4	Conclusion	138
Chapter 4 — Utility		139
4.1	Introduction.....	140
4.2	Utility is an Element of an Invention	141
4.3	Relevant Date for Assessing Utility	142
4.4	Relevant Addressee for Assessing Utility	143
4.5	Degree of Utility Required	145
4.6	Utility in Relation to Subject Matter.....	148
4.7	Utility and Disclosure	150
4.8	Ground for Inutility.....	158
4.8.1	Inoperability	158
4.8.2	Control and Reproducibility.....	159
4.8.3	Side Effects and Toxicity.....	159
4.8.4	Claim Missing an Immaterial Element.....	160
4.8.5	Claim Missing an Essential Element	161
4.8.6	Inutility of Described Embodiment.....	162
4.8.7	Partial Inutility.....	165
4.8.8	Utility in Modified Form	167
4.8.9	Claim Includes Inoperable Embodiments.....	168
4.8.10	Obviously Inoperable Embodiments	169
4.8.11	Claim Points to Inoperable Embodiment.....	170
4.8.12	Inutility within Genus or within Breadth of Claim	172
4.8.13	Use Limited Claims and Sufficiency	174
4.9	Inutility of the Patent as a Whole.....	176
4.10	Commercial Success as Evidence of Utility.....	176
4.11	Utility and Sound Prediction.....	178

4.10.1	Three-part Test for Predicted Utility	180
4.10.2	After-the-Fact Validation	184
4.10.3	Sound Prediction and Breadth of Claim	186
4.10.3.1	Overly Broad Class	187
4.10.4	Demonstrated Utility and Proper Disclosure	188
4.10.5	Utility and Obviousness	190
4.11	Burden and Standard	192
Chapter 5 — Inventiveness.....		195
5.1	Overview.....	200
5.2	Obviousness is Different From Anticipation.....	202
5.3	Development of the Requirement for Non-Obviousness	203
5.3.1	Development of the Requirement for Non-Obviousness — Introduction.....	203
5.3.2	Development of U.K. Requirement for Non-Obviousness — Overview.....	204
5.3.2.1	Obvious to Try	207
5.3.2.2	Conor v. Angiotech	208
5.3.2.3	Actavis v. ICOS	209
5.3.3	Development of the U.S. Requirement for Obviousness.....	209
5.3.4	Development of the Requirement for Obviousness in Canadian Law.....	213
5.3.4.1	Farbwerke Hoechst v. Halocarbon	215
5.3.4.2	Beecham v. Procter & Gamble	217
5.3.4.3	Beloit v. Valmet Oy	217
5.3.4.4	Section 28.3.....	218
5.3.4.5	Apotex v. Sanofi-Synthelabo	219
5.4	Test for Obviousness or Lack of Invention Under the Old Act	223
5.4.1	Old Act Test as a Series of Questions.....	224
5.5	Statutory Test for Obviousness under the Current Act	226
5.5.1	Obviousness Test under Section 28.3 as a Series of Questions	227
5.6	The Subject Matter Defined by the Claim in Issue	228
5.7	The Relevant Date for Obviousness under the Old Act — Date of Invention.....	230
5.7.1	Proof of Actual Date of Invention	231
5.7.2	Constructive Date of Invention — Filing Date or Priority Date.....	233
5.8	Relevant Date for Obviousness under the Current Act — Claim Date.....	237
5.9	The Prior Art to be Considered in Assessing Obviousness	241
5.9.1	Prior Art to be Considered Under the Old Act	241
5.9.2	Prior Art to be Considered Under the Current Act	242

5.9.2.1	Information Disclosed More than One Year Before the Filing Date, or Before the Claim Date if it is Earlier, By or From the Applicant	242
5.9.2.2	Information Disclosed Before the Claim Date by Other Persons.....	243
5.9.2.3	Disclosed in Such a Manner that the Information Became Available to the Public	244
5.9.3	Other Issues Regarding the Art to be Considered in Determining Obviousness.....	247
5.9.3.1	Disclosure to the Person Skilled in the Art	247
5.9.3.2	All of the Relevant Art	248
5.9.3.3	Art Cited in the Patent.....	251
5.9.3.4	Post-Art — Art After the Relevant Date	252
5.9.3.5	Information Outside the Field of the Person Skilled in the Art.....	253
5.9.3.6	Relevance of a Diligent Search	255
5.9.3.7	How the Art was Located	262
5.9.3.8	The Nature of the Disclosure	263
5.9.3.9	Age of the Prior Art.....	265
5.9.3.10	Recent Art	265
5.9.3.11	Paper References	266
5.9.3.12	Mosaic	266
5.9.4	Expert Evidence as to the Prior Art	268
5.10	The Person Skilled in the Art	270
5.10.1	Identify the Person Skilled in the Art	270
5.10.2	A Notional Person	271
5.10.3	Qualities and Capabilities of the Person Skilled in the Art	276
5.10.3.1	Sufficiently Skilled to Understand the Nature and Description of the Invention.....	276
5.10.3.2	Practical Interest in the Invention.....	277
5.10.3.3	Ordinary Skill	278
5.10.3.4	Unimaginative.....	281
5.10.3.5	Reasonably Diligent in Keeping Up	284
5.10.3.6	Mind Willing to Understand	285
5.10.3.7	Seeking to Achieve Success.....	285
5.10.3.8	Other Qualities and Capabilities	285
5.10.4	Expert Evidence as to the Qualities and Capabilities of the Person Skilled in the Art	286
5.11	Common General Knowledge in the Art	287
5.11.1	Relevance of the Common General Knowledge in the Art	287
5.11.2	What is the Common General Knowledge in the Art	288

5.12	Construe the Claim and Identify the Inventive Concept of the Claim Where Appropriate	297
5.12.1	“Inventive Concept” in U.K. Law	297
5.12.2	“Inventive Concept” in Canadian Law	299
5.12.2.1	Apotex v. Sanofi-Synthelabo	300
5.12.2.2	Bristol-Myers Squibb v. Teva	301
5.12.2.3	Ciba Specialty Chemicals v. SNF	302
5.12.3	The Inventive Concept — General Principles.....	304
5.12.4	Step 2 in Relation to Patents Governed by the Old Act	309
5.12.5	Step 2 in Relation to Patents Governed by Section 28.3 of the Current Act	310
5.13	Differences Between the State of the Art and the Claim as Construed and the Inventive Concept.....	310
5.14	Determination of Obviousness.....	312
5.14.1	Overview of Determination of Obviousness	312
5.14.2	An Objective Test.....	315
5.14.3	There Must be Invention.....	318
5.14.4	Obvious to Try.....	320
15.14.4.1	When is the “Obvious to Try” Test Appropriate?	324
15.14.4.2	“Obvious to Try” Considerations	326
5.14.5	Directly and Without Difficulty.....	332
5.14.6	Other Statements of the Test of Obviousness.....	333
5.14.7	Question of Fact	337
5.14.8	Mechanical Skill.....	339
5.14.9	Obviousness is to be Determined at the Relevant Date.....	340
5.14.10	Caution Concerning Hindsight	340
5.14.11	Relevance of Other Factors	344
5.15	Other Facts — Their Relevance to the Determination of Obviousness	344
5.15.1	Is it More or Less Self-Evident That What is Being Tried Ought to Work?	344
5.15.2	The Extent, Nature and Amount of Effort Required to Achieve the Invention	349
5.15.2.1	Verification	353
5.15.3	Motive to Find the Solution the Patent Addresses.....	354
5.15.4	The Manner of Making the Invention	359
5.15.5	Simplicity	364
5.15.6	Technically or Practically Obvious	366
5.15.7	Utility	367
5.15.8	If Obvious, Why Was it Not Done Before?	369
5.15.9	The Climate in the Field — Teaching Away or Prejudice	373
5.15.10	Commercial Success	375

5.15.11	The Reception of the Invention and the Response of Others in the Field	385
5.15.12	Meritorious Awards and Industry Praise	388
5.15.13	Patents	388
5.15.14	Combination of Factors	389
5.16	Relevance of the Prosecution History	390
5.17	Expert Evidence as to Obviousness.....	392
5.18	Some Specific Applications of the Test for Obviousness	394
5.18.1	Combinations.....	394
5.18.1.1	Combination	394
5.18.1.2	Obviousness of a Combination	395
5.18.1.3	Mere Aggregation	396
5.18.2	Obviousness of a Member of a Claimed Class	397
5.18.3	New Use for an Old Product or Process.....	398
5.18.4	Product for a New Use	399
5.18.5	Selection.....	399
5.18.6	Size, Shape, Material.....	402
5.18.7	Composition	404
5.18.8	Process.....	404
5.18.9	Idea	405
5.19	Double Patenting	405
5.19.1	Divisional Applications	415
5.19.2	Exception Where the Patent Office Requires Division	417
Chapter 6	— Claim Construction	419
6.1	Introduction: “What Does the Claim Mean?”	423
6.2	History of Claiming	425
6.3	History of Claim Construction	429
6.3.1	The Two Part Test: Literal and Substantive Infringement.....	429
6.3.1.1	Literal Infringement	431
6.3.1.2	Substantive Infringement.....	433
6.3.2	Catnic	436
6.3.3	Improver	440
6.3.4	The Evolution of Claim Construction — a Chart	443
6.4	The First Duty of the Court.....	444
6.4.1	Claim Construction is the Job of the Court.....	446
6.4.2	Claim Construction: a Legal, not a Factual Question: a “Question of Law”	446
6.4.2.1	Factual Findings during Claim Construction.....	447
6.4.2.2	Construing the Claims.....	449
6.4.2.3	Standard of Review on Appeal: “correctness”	449
6.4.2.4	A divergence in the standard of review towards “palpable and overriding error”	451

6.4.2.5	A Suggested Resolution for the Standard of Review for Claim Construction	455
6.4.3	Onus on Construction	456
6.4.3.1	Patent as a “Regulation”	457
6.4.3.2	Markman Hearings	458
6.4.4	Use of Expert Witnesses	459
6.4.4.1	When Experts Construe the Claims	464
6.4.4.2	Areas Where Experts Have Been Permitted to Give Evidence	465
6.5	The Principles of Claim Construction in Free World and Whirlpool	469
6.6	“Purposive” Construction	472
6.6.1	Rejection of “Form and Substance” Approach	475
6.7	Step 1: What Do the Words and Phrases in the Claim Mean?	475
6.7.1	Pre-Construction Set-Up	476
6.7.1.1	The Relevant Date	477
6.7.1.2	The Skilled Reader: The Person of Ordinary Skill in the Art (“POSITA”)	479
6.7.1.3	Objective Attitude or Biased for Really Useful Inventions	482
6.7.1.4	With an Eye on the Defendant’s Product	484
6.7.2	Use of the Patent Specification	486
6.7.2.1	The Patent Should be Read as a Whole	486
6.7.2.2	Patentee as Lexicographer	487
6.7.2.3	Use of the Abstract	489
6.7.2.4	Use of the Preamble to the Claim	489
6.7.2.5	“Comprising” or “Consisting of”	490
6.7.2.6	Use of the Disclosure and Drawings	494
6.7.2.7	Use of the Variants Clause	501
6.7.2.8	Dependant Claims, Claim Differentiation and Claim Consistency	502
6.7.2.10	Dependent Claims: “ ... any of Claims”	508
6.7.2.8	Other Independent Claims	508
	a) Method Claims: Order of Steps	509
6.7.3	Use of External Material	509
6.7.3.1	Dictionaries	510
6.7.3.2	File Wrapper Estoppel	512
	a) Old law prohibiting it in Canada	513
	b) Section 53.1	515
6.7.3.3	Prior Art	517
6.7.3.4	Testimony of the Inventor	517
6.7.3.5	Other Patents of the Same Owner	518

6.7.3.6	Other Canadian Decisions Construing the Same Patent	519
6.7.3.7	Foreign Decisions and Issue Estoppel.....	520
6.7.4	Use of Language: Synecdoche or Metonymy	522
6.7.4.1	Examples of Synecdoche and Metonymy	525
6.8	Step 2: Is a Claim Element “Essential”?	528
6.8.1	Judicial Readings of Free World and Whirlpool consistent with Catnic and Improver	530
6.8.2	Q. #1: The “Obviously Substitutable” Claim Element	531
6.8.2.1	The Presence of a Variant	532
6.8.2.2	Does the Variant Affect the Way the Invention Works?:.....	533
	a) The Way the Invention Works	533
	b) The Way (the Invention + the Variant) Works... ..	534
6.8.2.3	Obvious Substitutability ... At the Time the Patent was Published.....	535
	a) At the Time the Patent Application is Published	537
6.8.3	Q. #2: Is the Element Essential, According to the Intent of the Inventor as Expressed or Inferred from the Claims?	538
6.8.3.1	Adherence to the Language of the Claims	541
6.8.3.2	The Inferred Intent of the Inventor	543
6.8.3.3	Most Claims Contain Only Essential Elements	544
6.8.3.4	Words of Precision and the Precision of Words... ..	547
6.8.3.5	Numbers	548
6.8.3.6	“About”	549
6.8.3.7	“Substantially”	551
6.8.4	Problem/Solution Approach to Determine Essential Elements is Incorrect	551
6.9	An Inconsistency in Free World , or an Evolution of Catnic/Improver ? ...	553
6.9.1	A Plain Reading of Whirlpool/Free World	555
6.9.1.1	Para 55: A Claim element is non-essential if its variant doesn’t affect the working of the invention.....	555
6.9.1.2	“Irrespective of its Practical Effect”	558
6.9.1.3	Free World : Justice Binnie asked both questions to confirm that “circuit means” was an essential element	559
6.9.1.4	Para 57: Element is Essential “unless the context of the claim otherwise dictates”	561
6.9.1.5	Cases applying to a Plain Reading of Whirlpool/Free World	564
6.9.2	Back to Catnic and Improver	565

6.9.3	A Purposive Construction of Free World	568
6.10	Developments in Claim Construction Since Free World and Whirlpool	570
6.10.1	The 2004 Kirin-Amgen Decision	570
6.10.2	The 2017 Actavis Decision	574
6.11	“Swiss” Type Claims	579
6.12	Conclusions	580
6.13	Appendix A	581
Chapter 7	— Infringement	587
7.1	Introduction	589
7.1.1	What is Infringement?	589
7.1.1.1	Infringement is a Question of Fact	592
7.1.2	Territorial Limitations	593
7.1.2.1	The U.S. Perspective	595
7.1.2.2	The U.K. Perspective	596
7.1.3	Who Can Sue?	597
7.1.3.1	Patentee	597
7.1.3.2	Licensee	597
7.1.4	Who Can be Sued?	598
7.1.5	Officers and Directors	598
7.2	“Direct” Infringement	598
7.2.1	Making and Constructing	599
7.2.1.1	Patented Process for Obtaining a New Product ...	600
7.2.1.2	Repairing vs. Remanufacturing	601
7.2.2	Using	603
7.2.2.1	Monsanto Decision	603
7.2.2.2	Use in an Unintended Manner	605
7.2.2.3	Use of a Product of a Patented Process or Machine	606
7.2.3	Selling	606
7.2.4	Importation	607
7.2.4.1	Product Made Abroad by Patented Process or Intermediate	608
7.2.4.2	Product Made Abroad by Patented Machine	611
