

SUMMARY TABLE OF CONTENTS

Preface and Acknowledgments . . . . . iii
Introduction . . . . . 1
Chapter 1: The Workplace Players . . . . . 7
Chapter 2: The Boundaries of Human Resources Management . . . . . 17
Chapter 3: Good Human Resources Management at Work . . . . . 47
Chapter 4: Creating a Framework . . . . . 53
Chapter 5: Communicating Expectations . . . . . 65
Chapter 6: Enforcing Standards . . . . . 73
Chapter 7: Encouraging Suggestions and Complaints: Grievances and Arbitrations
. . . . . 93
Chapter 8: Renewal and Change . . . . . 105
Index . . . . . 111

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Preface and Acknowledgments . . . . .	iii
Introduction . . . . .	1
Ignore the Union . . . . .	1
Mixed Workplaces . . . . .	3
The Importance of Good Human Resources Management . . . . .	4
Chapter 1: The Workplace Players . . . . .	7
Workers . . . . .	7
Lead Hands or Group Leaders . . . . .	8
Skilled Employees and Professional Workers . . . . .	8
Bargaining Units and Unions . . . . .	9
Front-Line Supervisors . . . . .	9
Higher Level Management . . . . .	11
Human Resources Professionals (“HRPs”) and other Professional Staff . . . . .	12
Confidential Staff . . . . .	13
Third Parties . . . . .	13
Employee Organizations and Representatives . . . . .	13
Chapter 2: The Boundaries of Human Resources Management . . . . .	17
Boundaries to Management Rights . . . . .	19
The First Boundary — The Common Law . . . . .	19
The Law of Contracts . . . . .	20
The Law of Torts . . . . .	23
Bad Faith Damages . . . . .	26
The Second Boundary — Statutory Law . . . . .	28
Employment Standards . . . . .	29
Labour Law, the Law of Trade Unions . . . . .	30
Health and Safety . . . . .	34
Workplace Harassment and Violence . . . . .	35
Workers’ Compensation . . . . .	36

Table of Contents

Human Rights . . . . .	38
The Third Boundary — The Collective Agreement . . . . .	39
The Fourth Boundary — Self-Imposed Boundaries . . . . .	40
Culture, History and Evolution . . . . .	43
Chapter 3: Good Human Resources Management at Work . . . . .	47
Creating a Framework . . . . .	47
Communicating Expectations . . . . .	48
Correcting Poor Performance or Behaviour . . . . .	49
Complaints . . . . .	50
Continuous Renewal and Inevitable Change . . . . .	51
Chapter 4: Creating a Framework . . . . .	53
What Currently Exists . . . . .	54
Other Models . . . . .	55
Creating Your New or Improved Framework . . . . .	56
Creating Buy-In with Your Management Team, Your Workers and the Union(s) . . . . .	60
Gaining Input while Maintaining Control . . . . .	61
Chapter 5: Communicating Expectations . . . . .	65
Higher Level Management . . . . .	65
Front-Line Supervisors . . . . .	66
Following the Framework . . . . .	67
Consistency . . . . .	68
The Workers . . . . .	69
The Union . . . . .	70
Other Workplace Players . . . . .	71
Communication is a Two-way Street . . . . .	71
Chapter 6: Enforcing Standards . . . . .	73
Performance Evaluations . . . . .	73
Merit Pay . . . . .	75
Corrective Action Plan (“CAP”) . . . . .	77
CAP Fundamentals . . . . .	78

Table of Contents

CAP Levels . . . . .	80
When Corrective Action is Appropriate . . . . .	83
Making a Decision to Discipline . . . . .	84
Conducting an Investigation . . . . .	84
Mitigating Circumstances: Fitting Corrective Action to the Misconduct . . . . .	86
Prior Record of Corrective Action . . . . .	87
Double Jeopardy and New Facts . . . . .	87
Summary of an Effective CAP . . . . .	88
The Final Break from Employment: A Review of Dismissal Scenarios . . . . .	89
Disciplinary Discharge or Dismissal for Just Cause . . . . .	89
Dismissal for Non-Performance: Non-Disciplinary Absenteeism . . . . .	89
Dismissal for Poor Performance, but not for Just Cause . . . . .	91
A Few Words About Settlements . . . . .	92
Chapter 7: Encouraging Suggestions and Complaints: Grievances and Arbitrations . . . . .	93
Complaints are Normal . . . . .	93
Open the Door: Encourage Complaints and Limit Grievances . . . . .	94
Details of the Grievance Procedure . . . . .	95
Arbitration . . . . .	97
Issues for Grievances . . . . .	100
Responses and Resolutions to Complaints and Grievances . . . . .	101
Proactive Steps to Avoid Unnecessary Complaints . . . . .	103
Chapter 8: Renewal and Change . . . . .	105
You Never Actually Get There . . . . .	105
The Calendar System . . . . .	106
Paradigms for Learning . . . . .	106
“VISION” . . . . .	107
“LEADER” . . . . .	109
Continuous Improvement . . . . .	110
Index . . . . .	111