FRAUDS ON CREDITORS: FRAUDULENT CONVEYANCES AND PREFERENCES

M.A. Springman

Release No. 8, November 2026

This work provides practitioners and academics with comprehensive narrative coverage of the law to effectively pursue assets that a debtor has attempted to shield from his or her creditors. This service contains in-depth commentary on the federal and provincial legislation and the case law thereunder, including new material on: the position of an advising and participating lawyer in the context of fraudulent conveyances and preferences; conflict of laws; the oppression remedy and the derivative action; creditors as beneficiaries of the directors' duty of care; injunctions; and certificates of pending litigation.

What's New in this Update:

This release features updates to Appendix A (Legislation and Related Materials) and Appendix SLL (Selected Legal Literature).
