

2026-1 Highlights

If you are a subscriber to this set, this release replaces the third volume.

This important work continues to provide authoritative analysis of the laws and regulations relating to valuation, classification of goods, rules of origin, antidumping and countervailing duties, unfair trade practices, penalties, and other trade related topics. The set includes invaluable case summaries, expert commentary, and helpful primary source tools and references. Terminology and procedure are clearly explained with discussion of and reference to the Rules of the United States Court of International Trade, Title 19 of the C.F.R., the U.S. Code, and case law—decided by the U.S. Court of International Trade and other federal and state courts.

This release includes the following updates:

- Judicial Enforcement of Agreements to Arbitrate International Commercial Disputes under United States Law (ch. 9) (revised): The United States is a signatory to the Convention on the Recognition and Enforcement of Foreign Arbitral Awards, popularly known as the New York Convention. The New York Convention's requirements have been adopted in domestic law as Chapter 2 to Title 9 of the United States Code, as part of the Federal Arbitration Act (the Act). Both the Convention and the U.S. codification of its provisions are designed to facilitate arbitration for resolution of international commercial disputes. The chapter covers the Convention's requirement, as reflected in U.S. law, that domestic courts enforce arbitration provisions in international contracts or arising in international transactions. Revised discussion includes: Basis for federal court jurisdiction (§ 9:3); Policy in favor of enforcing agreements to arbitrate, and scope of federal court jurisdiction (§ 9:4); Determining whether a federal court has removal jurisdiction under the Convention (§ 9:6); Determining whether to compel arbitration—Is there an arbitration agreement and is it enforceable?—Determining whether there is an enforceable agreement to arbitrate (§ 9:10); Determining whether to compel arbitration—Is there an arbitration agreement and is it enforceable?—Parties covered by the arbitration agreement (§ 9:11); Determining whether to compel arbitration—Issues subject to arbitration—Whether arbitration is contrary to public policy (§ 9:13)
- Judicial Confirmation of Foreign Arbitral Awards (ch. 11) [New]—includes coverage of: The Convention on the Recognition and Enforcement of Foreign Arbitral Awards (§ 11:2); Federal court jurisdiction over confirmation of awards pursuant to the Convention (§ 11:3); Arbitral awards covered by the Convention (§§ 11:4 to 11:7); Defenses to recognition and enforcement of an award (§§ 11:8 to 11:20); Stay of proceedings (§ 11:21)
- Glossary (revised)
