About the Author

Jack McGehee is the Senior Partner with the firm of McGehee ★ Chang, Feiler in Houston, Texas. After trying 307 cases to verdict including the largest medical malpractice verdict in Texas in 2009, he has finally realigned his mission in life. With a goal to die penniless while leaving behind a legacy that makes a difference, all his firm profit and income from this book go to Together in Hope (TIH, www.togetherinhope.com), a public charity he founded in 2007. He continues to try important cases because he sees it as his gift that feeds his mission. But when it comes time to take out, he is finally answering a higher calling by giving back. It took long enough, but he finally heard it!

Publisher's Preface

This publication is designed to provide a compact and authoritative presentation of the Texas Civil Practice and Remedies Code and related Texas laws, including selected portions of the Business and Commerce Code, Finance Code, Government Code, and Property Code. The publication is intended to combine the most salient features of an unannotated code—compactness and portability—and those of a fully annotated code—interpretive materials—into a single publication containing a carefully constructed selection of primary law materials relating to Texas Civil Practice and Remedies. Thus the publication contains the full text of the Texas Civil Practice and Remedies Code, and related statutes, accompanied by interpretive aids which have been constructed by the author and the publisher's editorial staff to provide materials which are highly focused, concise, practical, and authoritative.

The Commentary, Leading Cases and Leading CLE/Law Review Publications have been compiled by the author. The remaining editorial components were prepared by the editorial staff of the publisher.

This publication is current with legislation enacted through the 2025 Regular and Second Called Sessions of the 89th Texas Legislature, and the Nov. 4, 2025 general election. The Commentary and Leading Cases cover decisions through September, 2025. The notes to Attorney General Opinions cover opinions published through September, 2025. The Leading CLE/Law Review Materials cover materials, articles, notes and comments published through September, 2025.
